Journal of the House

NINETY-SIXTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 2011

The House was called to order at twelve o'clock noon by the Honorable Robin Carnahan, Secretary of State.

Prayer by Dr. William Miller, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Farmington, Missouri.

Our Father, thank You for the symbols which surround us in this place. They are reminders of the sacrifice of those who have gone before us; they remind us of the privilege of living in a free state; and they also remind us of the challenges which lie before us.

Assembled in this place is a group of public servants who have before them a huge responsibility and challenge.

I pray for these men and women in this House who will represent the people of Missouri. I pray for each of them to have wisdom, grace and guidance from You.

Each of these representatives now holds a sacred trust given to them by the vote of the people. It is also a sacred trust that comes from on high because we believe that government for the good of the people is ordained of God.

As each of these representatives assume this sacred trust, the decisions they make will often be difficult. May each find in You, and help from another, the guidance they need to serve the best interests of the people of Missouri.

Father, many of these representatives will travel weekly, some long distances. I pray, for each of them, safe travel. Each week they will be separated from family. I pray Your care for their families at home.

I pray for the spirit of cooperation that will enable great progress in this session. God, as they do this difficult work, may the words of the writer of Proverbs aid them when he says, "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him and He will make your paths straight."

I offer this as my prayer for these dedicated public servants and the Legislative Session ahead, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Missouri State Highway Patrol, Troop F Color Guard, presented the Colors.

ADDRESS BY SECRETARY OF STATE ROBIN CARNAHAN

Good Afternoon. I'm Secretary of State Robin Carnahan, and I'd like to welcome you to the 96th Regular Session of the Missouri General Assembly. Thanks to those of you returning to continue your service to our state. And a very special welcome and congratulations to those who are here for the first time... and that includes nearly ½ of the members of the Missouri House.

For some of you who might be confused about why the Secretary of State is presiding over your first day on the job in the legislature, let me explain. I wield the gavel today for two reasons...law and tradition...two concepts you will hear a lot about in the months ahead.

By law, the Secretary of State presides over the opening of each legislative session until a duly elected Speaker is chosen. And by tradition, as the presiding officer I'm expected to speak...but only briefly. It's also a tradition that everyone who makes it to the dais (and even some who don't) also give a speech. So I'll keep it short.

Today marks a momentous occasion - the opening of the 96th Missouri General Assembly.

Think about that. For the past 190 years...since Missouri joined the Union in 1821...citizen legislators, just like you, have gathered in this same way to set the direction for our state.

Like them, you also come from different parties and different regions, with different ideas, different constituencies, and different life experiences. Despite all those differences, you are united by your commitment to serve, and you share a common purpose - ensuring a bright future for Missouri families.

Doing this job, while always remembering that common purpose, is the great challenge before you.

It's no secret that our state faces financial challenges. And the choices you'll be making in the months ahead are both serious and likely to stir up heated debate. And they should. Because the decisions you make in the comfort of this beautiful Chamber will have serious implications for all those Missouri families who don't enjoy these comforts but who nevertheless have entrusted you to work for them.

Millions of Missourians are counting on you not only to maintain but to continue building on the strong foundation that makes our state a great place to raise a family, start a business, and find a good job, affordable healthcare, and a world-class education for their kids.

So, as you struggle in the months ahead with difficult choices, just as your predecessors did, I hope you'll remember two things: First, never forget that those everyday Missourians - the people you work for - are counting on you to get it right. And second, never forget that throughout our long history, Missouri's leaders have guided our state in even tougher times - times of war, depression, and disaster - and yet, they stayed committed to the common purpose of ensuring a brighter future for Missouri families.

As you prepare to take on the high honor and great responsibility bestowed upon you this day, I'd like to leave you with one final thought.

For 125 years, the Statue of Liberty has stood as the most famous symbol of freedom in the world. It has endured storms and blizzards, rain and snow, extreme heat and bitter cold. And yet, still, she stands proud with her flame held high as a beacon of hope and determination to the rest of the world.

I was reminded recently about the unique construction of the Statue. Its outer surface, the part that we see, is actually made of a very thin layer of copper just 1/10 of an inch thick. The only reason the Statue has withstood all the ravages of time is not because of what we see on the outside, it's because of what's inside. You see, the Statue literally has an iron core. And that's what gives it the strength to withstand the heat and storms and whatever else comes along. Maintaining the strength and integrity of that iron core is what holds up that beautiful structure that gives hope to all Americans who cherish freedom.

Just like Lady Liberty has endured because of her iron core, I am confident that our state will do the same. Because like that Statue, our strength is in our core – our people, our businesses that provide good jobs, our hospitals that heal the sick, and our schools that educate our children. Those people and institutions are the iron core that gives our state the strength to endure whatever challenges come along.

My prayer today is that in the weeks and months ahead each of you remembers that it's your job to maintain our core by protecting those things that give us the strength and hope for the future. That will be your lasting legacy.

May God bless you as you go about this important work.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER STEVEN TILLEY

Thank you, and welcome....I am addressing you today as the Speaker of the Missouri House because your confidence, trust, and support made it possible and for that I will always be grateful.

However the reason I stand here is because of the love and sacrifice of some very special people, and I would like to take this opportunity to introduce them.

Although I may be the Leader of this House, there is one undisputed Speaker in my own house, and that is my wife, Kellie Tilley.

I am sure serving as Speaker will undoubtedly be one of the most significant achievements of my life, but the greatest honor and achievement I will ever have is being the father of my two beautiful daughters, Kourtney and Korrin.

My parents taught me at a young age the importance of hard work, integrity, kindness, and compassion. They have always been my biggest fans and believed in me when I found it hardest to believe in myself. Please welcome my parents Everett and Bonnie Tilley and Linda and Dave Wooff.

And last, but certainly not least, my role model, my best friend, and my older brother, Jason, and his wife Maureen.

I would like to start by sharing a story with you that only my family members know. As an 18-year-old college freshman I was pretty immature...perhaps some of you can relate. I was more focused on "extracurricular activities" than I was academics, and my grades reflected this. My Mom once pointed out, "to say my academic achievement was less than stellar would be a historic understatement."

However, as time passed, and with the help of my wife, I matured and realized that if I wanted to amount to anything and fulfill my potential, I had to get serious about school. So I did, and in my last three years I excelled academically. In October of 1993 I applied to optometry school. It was very competitive to get into a professional school because only 1 spot is granted for about every 10 applicants.

Although I had done quite well in my classes the last three years, my lack of focus early on brought my grade point average to less than impressive, but I always believed in my heart that if I could just get an interview, if I could explain how much I matured, how hard I could work, and how much I learned they would give a chance and allow me to become an asset to the profession.

However, November and December passed and no interview. January and February passed; still no interview. As March approached as the last month for interviews, I sat down with my father, and he suggested I go visit a respected optometrist just south of us. This doctor was a person who has been recognized as a leader in the profession of optometry for a generation.

I called this distinguished optometrist and he agreed to meet with me, so I drove to Caruthersville to ask for his help. After hearing my story he agreed to make a call on my behalf, and, to make a long story short, I got an interview. The University of Missouri St. Louis accepted me, and the rest is history. Without having been accepted to optometry school, I probably wouldn't have become a doctor. I probably wouldn't have found my way into the Missouri House of Representatives, and certainly wouldn't be standing before you as Speaker.

That man was Doctor Terry Swinger. We all know him as one of our colleagues here in the House, Representative Swinger.

As I reflect on my past, with the exception of my family members, Representative Swinger is the individual who has had the most profound positive impact on my life, and I want to stand here today and from the bottom of my heart thank him.

The reason I wanted to share that story with you is because we can all learn a valuable lesson from Representative Swinger. When I was a young man that needed help, a young man that needed someone to believe in me, he didn't look at me as a Republican or a Democrat, especially not the future Speaker; he looked at me as a person.

As we embark on this legislative session, let's not look at one another as Republicans or Democrats, but rather as normal dedicated citizens working to make this state a better place to live, work, and raise a family.

We're not always going to agree - even with our own parties, but we must agree to not let partisanship get in the way of good ideas.

Within this story there is also a challenge, and it is a challenge I am placing before all of you. Dr. Swinger took a chance on a young man because maybe he was a local kid, or maybe because he believed I could become an asset to the profession, but he definitely set an example as a role model that I have not forgotten.

And in return, I hope as a young man I was able to set an example as well...that it is alright to believe in people, that we can still have faith in one another...and always hope for the best.

So, my challenge is this: that we all, in our entrusted positions, lead by example.

As Republicans, we now control the largest majorities in the nearly 200-year history of our state. Because of that, it is my belief we now have the greatest responsibility in leading by example.

From the book of Luke: "When someone has been given much, much will be required in return; and when someone has been entrusted with much, even more will be required."

Missourians have entrusted us with the power of state government. And Missourians have been clear; they want...need...and deserve a change in the culture of how we operate.

Missourians want legislative leaders who live by the same rules they do.

So as your Speaker, I have a great deal of responsibility and therefore the largest role in leading by example.

However, we don't always have to lead by legislating. As elected officials our goal shouldn't always be to create more laws, but institute better principles, a change of attitude, and a willingness to challenge the status quo.

As your Speaker-elect, I believe you have seen firsthand my willingness to challenge the status quo. To accept the way things have always been done as the way they should always be done is unacceptable. My first change, for the first time ever, as an incoming Speaker was naming our intended Chairman more than a month in advance. We followed that by assigning committees to all members, both Republican and Democrat, before session started. The reason was so that, before this gavel fell, each of you could be focused on your issues and getting down to business for the people of Missouri.

Second, I took a historic step in naming three Democrats as chairmen to substantive committees. I believe in the fundamental principle that a chairman should not be chosen because of the party under which they run, but rather by the quality which they possess.

Missouri families face difficult times. Unemployment hovers over 9%, and many of these families have been forced to tighten their belts. We will also have to make more cuts this year, and so we in the Missouri Legislature must lead by example.

Together, with Minority Leader Talbot, our combined leadership teams have identified savings of more than 10% and in my own office 15%. I applaud our Republicans as well as the Democrats in working together for that step in the right direction. This year we will prove to the citizens of our state that government can and will tighten their belts to do more with less Another example of challenging the status quo will come very soon. We will be approving the House Rules under which we operate. Within this set of Rules you will see several distinct changes, one of which removes partisan control of committees and reinstitutes the power of the minority leader to appoint his chosen members to committee. The expansion of special committees was done under Republican control. It limited the minority's power and we are going to fix it.

In addition, working with Budget Chairman Silvey and the Appropriations Chairs, we will move to require cost-containment plans from every state government department. Departments must realize we want to work together on improving efficiency, not simply hear requests for more dollars. Further, I am ready to grant subpoena power to the budget committee to root out more waste, fraud, and abuse.

These are just some small changes, but they show Missourians we are willing to lead by example and committed to getting beyond the business-as-usual mentality and challenge the status quo.

However, it will take more than this to get our state on the right track.

As a citizen, I am convinced government should NOT be the SOLUTION to every problem....but as legislators we should try everything in our power to make sure government is NOT the PROBLEM either.

Today, I would like to lay out a plan called the Show Me Solutions Initiative.

The principles of this plan are built on the principles by which Missourians expect us to govern - Limited Government, Fiscal Prudence, Individual Freedom, and Personal Responsibility, but it is also grounded in common sense. These are also ideas that are not entirely new, but with a change in focus are completely achievable because, when many of us talk with everyday Missourians, their call has often been "Show me solutions."

There are five key component areas I see as vital to our progress.

The first is a pledge to the voters that we heard them loud and clear. We will force government to live within its means, balance the state budget, and hold the line on taxes, period.

Second, our top priority must be job creation. But first let me be clear. Government does not create jobs. Entrepreneurs, small business owners, and large employers do. Government's role is not to run the economy, but to facilitate a business climate where the entrepreneurial spirit can thrive.

To create a better economic environment for all job creators, businesses must have a peace of mind that they will not be hampered with new regulations, fees, taxes, or frivolous lawsuits. If we achieve that, THEY can create new jobs. Therefore, our plan calls for a moratorium on any new regulations, fees, or new taxes for small businesses. However, we also want to take a significant step in reducing and limiting unfair lawsuits that threaten the viability of good honest businesses - and that includes Missouri's family farms.

Third, bring more accountability to government. For instance, if someone wants a Missouri driver's license, I think they should pass it in our official language - and that is English. And, as law enforcement personnel conduct a citizenship verification, why don't we cross-reference those individuals with the sexual predator list. Finally, we have to acknowledge that human trafficking occurs in our state and that in the worst cases it involves the sexual trafficking of children. Let's send a clear message to these worst of the worst that Missouri will not tolerate it and that no punishment is too severe.

In Missouri, I believe we can also reach for greater accountability from the federal government. So, we will work on a federal repeal resolution to band with other states and reject out-of-touch, out-of-control, and policies outside their authority.

Fourth, I believe in the fundamental principle that every child deserves a world class education. And it shouldn't matter if you are a Caucasian student in Perryville, MO, or an African American child in St. Louis or a Hispanic child in Kansas City. I have asked my education chairman to not focus on what's best for administrators, to not focus on what's best for teachers unions, but to focus on what is best for our children's education. Therefore, we need to pass teacher tenure reform that will reward good teachers and provide greater local control to school districts. We also need to strongly consider adopting policies to address social promotion. We are doing our children an injustice by merely passing them along if they can't meet the minimum standards.

Fifth, use responsibility and free market concepts to expand and increase quality healthcare. Missourians are compassionate people and willing to give a hand-up, but that is different than a handout. Missourians are interested in helping someone out of a bad situation, but Missourians have no interest in funding a bad habit.

That is why we need to pass drug testing on welfare recipients.

In Congress they believe the first 100 days are essential to establishing progress. However, in the Show Me State I believe our standards should be higher, and so my last challenge as well as yours is that we shoot for success in our first 50 days, so that in the first 50 days of this session, the House will have passed 75% of its priorities.

Finally, in closing I want you to take this into consideration. There are roughly 6 million people in Missouri, and only 163 get the honor and privilege to serve in the House of Representatives. We all have a unique but fleeting opportunity to make a difference in the lives of our citizens.

A few months back my Dad told me not to waste this opportunity. He told me I had a choice. As Speaker I could hop in the boat, float downstream, not make any waves, and let the river of history take me through the path of least resistance, then, at the end of the ride, just look back and be glad I was Speaker.

Or, I could hop out of the boat, make a few waves, and charter a new course. I'm choosing to chart a new course and challenge each of you to chart that new course with me.

May God bless all of you, may God bless your families, and may God bless the great state of Missouri

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER PRO TEM SCHOELLER

Secretary Carnahan, Fellow Members of the General Assembly, and our distinguished guests, it is an honor to be here before you today. Please allow me to pause for a moment and give tribute to my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ who, without a doubt, has granted me the opportunity to stand here now. To Him I say thank you.

I am also tremendously blessed by my wife Mendie and our three children Emma, Dorthy and Johnny as well as my parents, sister, family and special friends whose support allowed me to make this journey over the past four years.

To my fellow colleagues, I look forward to serving together with you for Missouri. As we do, may we keep in mind the words of our State Constitution in Article I, Section 1. "That all political power is vested in and derived from the people; that all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole." Perhaps our own U.S. Constitution summed it up best with three simple words, "We The People." We would do well to remember and recognize that our strength lies in the heart and spirit of every citizen, whom we are privileged to serve.

In that spirit, it is our duty to be purposeful in every legislative action we consider making. May the budget and legislation we pass promote those we serve to become more self-reliant and empower them to embrace the freedom of responsible independence.

In this past election Missouri's voters made it very clear that it is no longer acceptable to expect them to tighten their belts while government continues to grow due to the lack of solid fiscal standards. The voters have told us that they want a state government that is structured to be small and efficient, and now we must make that our duty.

As politicians, it is time for us to admit that we cannot solve every problem. We must be careful to question well-intentioned programs or laws that fail to create solutions and often create more problems. Let me paraphrase an old proverb to make my point: "Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day. Get the government out of the way so he can catch his own fish, and he will feed himself for a lifetime."

In the spirit of self-reliance we must be active in affecting our state business climate for the better. By diligently working to simplify our tax code, decreasing regulations and giving business owners, regardless of their size, the breathing room they deserve so that we will promote growth.

Any increase in taxes or regulations, whether state or federal, could be the final straw that breaks the camel's back, forcing them to decrease their workforce or worse, close their doors. In resisting the urge to over-regulate, we help ensure the very backbone of our economy, Missouri businesses, have the opportunity to thrive, which in turn helps sustain and create the vital jobs Missourians are looking for.

In the spirit of equal opportunity we must embrace the goal of a second to none public education system. I encourage all of us to keep in mind that our children will be better served when parents and local school boards have the freedom to determine how to best reach academic success without the concern of bureaucratic red tape and one-size-fits-all policies.

Our children deserve the best, and that is why I ask for a renewed spirit of cooperation that allows us to debate the issues without being swept up in the gridlock of self-interest. I was encouraged recently by a meeting with local superintendents and legislators where we had an open and frank conversation that I am eager to continue as we work together to improve our partnership with our local schools.

I understand you did not come to hear a fellow most of you don't know that well pontificate and so I will close my remarks shortly, but I would be remiss if I did not also affirm our sacred duty as a state to protect the vulnerable and indefensible.

I will never apologize for the duty we have as a state to protect those who cannot protect themselves, whether born or unborn. For too long, abused children have taken a back seat to politics and bureaucratic rules. We cannot continue to ignore our failing system while many little ones have lost their lives or have endured life-altering injuries.

It is time we commit ourselves to their protection and make no apologies for doing so. I call on Governor Nixon to work with us over the next two years to ensure we help the least of these, since their very life depends on it.

As we work to strengthen laws that protect life in the halls of this capitol I challenge this body, each community and each faith-based organization to be even more vigilant in upholding the sacredness of life and the individual beauty given to us all by our Creator. In doing so we will foster the culture of life necessary to truly protect the unborn.

It is not in the letter of the law that we will ever see abortions cease to occur, but rather in the spirit of our culture. We must choose to help mothers in unexpected pregnancies so that they are given every opportunity to bring their little one to full term. Changes in the law will be meaningless until life is held to be so sacred that willfully choosing to end it becomes unthinkable.

As I close, I want to thank our men and women that make the ultimate sacrifice each day, putting their own lives on the line: members of the Missouri National Guard, our nation's armed services, our law enforcement and emergency response teams that work to protect our communities and the freedoms we enjoy. It is freedom fought for since our nation's founders declared, "We the People," and it is in that spirit I say, "May God bless you and yours, our great state and this great nation we call home!"

Speaker Tilley resumed the Chair.

Pursuant to Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read by Steve Adams, Reading Clerk.

Aaron Holsapple, First Baptist Church, Jefferson City, Missouri, sang "The National Anthem."

The benediction was given by Msgr. Robert Kurwicki, St. Joseph Cathedral, Jefferson City, Missouri.

O Loving God, You remind us in the Sacred Scriptures that where two or three are gathered in Your Name, You are there in the midst of them.

We have felt Your powerful presence today in this House Chamber with the swearing in of a new Speaker and new members. Bless them, their staffs, their families and all the people of our state as we together begin the journey that will be this Session of the General Assembly.

Protect all who will visit and take part in the House of Representatives this year, and may our thoughts and words always be directed by the desire to serve the good of the people. Bless us as we go forth this day and give us Your peace. Amen.

ADJOURNMENT

On motion of Representative Jones (89), the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Thursday, January 6, 2011.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicksi.

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will we not fear. (Psalm 46:1)

O God, our Almighty Father, You are the refuge and strength of Your people in every age and our refuge and our strength in this present hour in this Chamber. We pause in Your presence to offer unto You once again the devotion of our hearts.

Amid all the changes and distractions of this life, help us to rest our spirits upon those eternal foundations of truth and love which You have laid for us. Save us from unnecessary restlessness, from lasting confusion, and from perpetual movement. Draw us unto Yourself that for this moment we may be still and know that You are God.

With the assurance of Your Holy Spirit may we accept the responsibilities of this day and fulfill all our obligations with fidelity and honor. Into Your loving arms we completely commit ourselves and our State of Missouri - praying that together we may be one in You: through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Janice Pickering.

The Journal of the first day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

A federal mandate bill may only contain subject matter concerning the federal mandate. A member wishing for his or her bill to be considered for placement on the Federal Mandate Calendar shall request in writing to the chair of the committee where such bill has been referred. The written request shall state the deadline by which the State must comply with the federal mandate and what will happen if the State fails to take action by such date. A copy for each committee member of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) mandating such action shall accompany the request. After the committee has voted "Do Pass" on a bill with such a request, it shall take a second recorded vote on whether or not to recommend that it be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If said bill is reported "Do Pass" by the committee with a recommendation that same be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar, and the Committee on Rules concurs therein, the Committee on Rules Chair shall submit to the Speaker a copy of the original written request, along with a copy of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) mandating State action. If the Speaker does not concur, he/she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. Each bill placed upon the Federal Mandate Calendars shall have attached thereto a copy of the federal statute(s) or regulation(s) that mandates the bill, along with a copy of the request to place the bill on the Federal Mandate Calendar and shall be distributed to all members at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration by the entire House.

Rule 40. If any bill is reported from committee with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go on the calendar of the House unless ordered by a constitutional majority. At the same time the bill is reported to the House, the committee chair shall notify the sponsor or handler of the bill that such report is being made. A motion to have a bill placed upon the calendar must be made within three legislative days after the bill is reported and when the sponsor of the bill is present or the motion is made by a member upon the sponsor's written request. If no such action is taken within said time, the bill shall lie on the table. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall stand automatically referred to the Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

Rule 43. All bills laid over informally and not taken up and disposed of the same day, shall appear in order upon the calendar for the next legislative day following.

Any bill which increases net expenditures of the state, reduces net revenue of the state, or contains penalty provisions, shall not be considered by the committee for consent; provided however, any bill which specifically authorizes an easement or right-of-way involving state property may be considered by the committee for placement on the Consent Calendar.

(b) Procedure on House Bills. If the committee shall so determine, the committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the "House Consent Calendar for Perfection". Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Rules. Any bill reported by the Committee on Rules with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection shall be placed on that calendar and after said bill has remained on the "House Consent Calendar for Perfection" for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the "House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage" without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded. Where there is a House Committee Substitute for a consent bill or House Committee Amendments to a consent bill, the committee substitute, or the bill as amended, shall be deemed adopted and perfected by consent.

(c) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for Consent even if it was not a Consent Bill in the Senate.

(d) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the House committee and Committee on Rules with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(f) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

House committee amendments and House committee substitutes to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 46. (a) In Writing and Distributed in Advance. Proposed amendments must be reduced to writing. Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments. The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature. Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment shall be read in its entirety by the clerk unless it has been distributed in advance. Amendments to the amendment and substitute amendments may be offered even though not distributed in advance of the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration. Any amendment to the amendment or substitute amendment that exceeds two 8 ½" x 11" pages in length shall be distributed prior to the time it is offered.

(b) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered. It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment. When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any bill may be withdrawn by the sponsor before amendment or decision thereon. Any amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon. Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House.

(e) When Federal Mandate Bills can be Amended. Amendments to House and Senate bills-Federal Mandate are permitted only within the scope of the federal mandate. Perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical amendments.

(f) Appropriations Bills. 1. No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills as reported from the Committee on Budget. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to contain an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the same bill or shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted.

2. If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is void.

3. The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase in the same amendment or a paired amendment creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

4. For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

5. No House Bill or House Committee Substitute of the state budget shall be adopted until all properly offered amendments to the first 12 House appropriations bills or substitutes have been disposed of.

Committee Substitute Printed

The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 48. When amendments to any bill, motion or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

Amendments Incorporated In Bill

Rule 49. All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

Nothing herein contained shall prohibit a member from voting "Present" on a question, and such vote shall be recorded in the Journal. In the case of equal division the question shall be lost. In the event that a member's vote (or absence) is incorrectly recorded in the Journal, he/she shall file with the Chief Clerk an affidavit stating that he/she was in the chamber at the time the vote was taken, that he/she did in fact vote, that the vote (or absence) was incorrectly recorded and the correct vote that should have been recorded. After the votes are registered the absentees shall be noted and upon demand of any member, another bell signifying that a call of absentees is being taken shall be sounded and a reasonable time shall be allowed after the sounding of the bell before the voting is closed.

Roll Call Votes

Rule 93. In all cases where a rule of the House of Representatives refers to the "calling of the names of the members" or "calling of the ayes or noes" or "calling of the roll", such reference shall be understood to refer also to the "taking" of the vote by electronic roll call system. There shall be a taking of the vote by electronic roll call system on the motion of any one member which is seconded by four other members immediately standing. A vote by electronic roll call shall be limited to thirty minutes, except in the cases of quorum calls. NOTICE UNDER SECTION 115.567 RSMo

Petitioners Sean O'Toole and Will Royster, pursuant to Section 115.567 RSMo., state as follows:

I. Notice: The Petition styled Petition to Contest Election and Seating of John J. Rizzo ("Petition") was filed with the House of Representatives, State of Missouri, at _____ a.m./p.m. on December 29, 2010, with the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

II. Grounds for Petition: The grounds for contesting the general election conducted for the 40th Legislative District, State of Missouri, are more specifically set forth in the Petition and incorporated herein as if more fully set forth. The grounds include the following:

A. Additional evidence (sometimes hereafter referred to as "newly discovered evidence" or "new evidence") discovered after the appeal of an election contest (Royster v. Rizzo) was submitted to the Court of Appeals constituted irregularities that is material and of such magnitude that the trial court would have been required to order a new election had that evidence been available. The additional or new evidence is detailed in the Report of Voter Fraud (2010 40th District State Representative Race; Evidence of Voter Fraud and Voter Fraud Intent), which has been filed with the House of Representatives, is incorporated herein, and includes the following:

1. At least two and possibly as many three voters who are related by family to Rizzo and who were not residents of the 40th Legislative District or even Jackson County, Missouri, voted in the primary for the 40th Legislative District. These voters were residents of Clay County, Missouri. One of these voters acknowledged his Clay County residence before a television camera crew.

2. At least one voter who contributed to Rizzo's campaign, but who was not a resident of the 40th Legislative District, voted in the primary and in the general election conducted for the 40th Legislative District. This third voter resides in Lee's Summit, Missouri, which is well outside (by many miles) the geographical boundaries of the 40th Legislative District.

3. Two other voters who were listed on the Election Board's voter list voted claiming an address in the 40th Legislative District, but that same residence is listed as owned by the Jackson County Land Trust and it appears to have been abandoned, closed and boarded up at least by the date of Royster filed his Motion for the Appointment of a Special Master with the Court of Appeals.

4. Another voter used 123 Oakley, Kansas City, Jackson County, Missouri as his residence for purposes of voting in the primary, even though that residence had been vacant for three years preceding the August 3, 2010, primary and was the subject to a demolition order as of the date of the primary.

5. Another voter who was registered in the 41st Legislative District both before and after the August 3, 2010, primary voted in the primary race for the 40th Legislative District.

6. Another voter tried to, but could not, vote because she could not find her polling place which was later discovered to have been combined with a precinct that was not joined with or contiguous to the geographical boundaries of that voter's precinct. This Precinct was one of those the trial court in Royster v. Rizzo found was not improperly joined.

7. During the general election, the same problems with unlawful assistance (in violation of Section 115.445 RSMo.) occurred multiple times in the same precinct located in the 40th Legislative District that was involved in the Royster v. Rizzo contest. The details regarding this report are in the Report of Voter Fraud. On information and belief, officials of the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners were again called out to this precinct to ascertain and correct voter activities that were occurring.

8. The illegal ballots represented by the nine or more voters above-mentioned exceed Rizzo's one vote margin of victory in the primary. This evidence would have satisfied the requirements of both Sections 115.539 and 115.549 RSMo., which means that the primary election for the 40th Legislative District did not produce a lawfully selected and qualified candidate for the November 2010 general election.

B. All evidence adduced and points made in the case styled Royster v. Rizzo, Case No. 1016-CV25576; WD 72947, and the legal authorities cited therein (information has been filed with the House of Representatives).

C. On the basis of the foregoing, Petitioners/Contestants state that Contestee John J. Rizzo was not a qualified candidate to run in the November 2010 general election and he is not qualified to be seated in the House of Representatives.

III. Witnesses to be examined:

1. John J. Rizzo
2. Lindee Hopkins
3. Wendy Jane Jones
4. Shawn L. Keiffer
5. Elaine Oberg
6. Billie D. Robleado
7. Adam Schieber
8. Brock Rule
9. John Moretina
10. Clara Moretina
11. Sheila Stewart
12. Chris Moreno
13. Joseph D. Cervello
14. David Raymond
15. All individuals designated by the Secretary of State, State of Missouri, to conduct the Section 115.601 RSMo. recount of votes cast in the August 3, 2010 Democrat primary for the 40th Legislative District.
16. All depositions and the trial transcript in the election contest styled Royster v. Rizzo, Case No. 1016-CV25576, Circuit Court of Jackson County, Missouri, have been, or will be, offered and produced as evidence.

IV. Depositions: Depositions shall commence on or before January 20, 2011, beginning at 9:00 a.m., unless otherwise agreed or changed or rescheduled by the House of Representatives. Depositions shall conform to Sections 115.569 and 115.571 RSMo., and shall be at 9800 NW Polo Drive Suite 100, Kansas City, Missouri.

Respectfully submitted,

PETITION TO CONTEST ELECTION AND SEATING OF JOHN J. RIZZO

1. Contestee/ Respondent John J. Rizzo ("Rizzo") won the Democrat primary election for the 40th Legislative District conducted by the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners on August 3, 2010 (sometimes hereafter "primary election").

2. Petitioner/Contestant Sean O'Toole is a duly qualified and registered voter of the State of Missouri, Jackson County, 40th Legislative District, and he was the successful candidate for the Libertarian Party in the August 3, 2010, primary for the 40th Legislative District (Jackson County, Missouri) (sometimes hereafter "election"), and candidate for the Libertarian Party for the 40th Legislative District in the November 2010 general election. Petitioner/Contestant Royster is a duly qualified and registered voter of the State of Missouri, Jackson County, 40th Legislative District, and he was a candidate in the Democrat August 3, 2010, primary for the 40th Legislative District.

3. The initial certification of the August 3, 2010, Democrat primary election was returned with a three vote margin of victory - 667 votes for Rizzo and 664 votes for Contestant/Petitioner, Will Royster ("Royster").

4. After receiving reports of irregularities concerning voting, electioneering and assistance given to voters, Royster filed an election contest in the Circuit Court of Jackson County, Missouri, in which he requested a recount under Section 115.539 RSMo. and a new election under Section 115.549 RSMo. (Royster v. Rizzo, Case No. 1016-CV25576, Circuit Court of Jackson County, sometime hereafter "election contest").

5. Because Rizzo's margin of victory was less than 1%, Royster also was automatically entitled to a mechanical recount of ballots. (Section 115.601 RSMo.) The recount was conducted by the Missouri Secretary of State pursuant to Royster's written letter request. This 601 recount is limited to a recounting of ballots; it is separate from and does not include the extensive review of evidence available in a recount under Section 115.539 RSMo., such as, for example, whether voters were qualified to vote, circumstances surrounding why voters failed to certify their qualifications under oath in order to vote, proper identification procedures, misconduct by election judges or voters, or other irregularities that might have affected the election.

6. The "601" ballot recount resulted in a new certification, this time with a one vote margin of victory – Rizzo having received 664 votes and Royster 663 votes. The 601 recounts and recertification were reported to the trial court, and it is noted in the trial court's judgment.

7. The trial court conducted the first of two hearings pursuant to Royster's election contest on September 7, 2010.

8. Upon conclusion of the second hearing held on September 14, 2010, the trial court declined to authorize either a full recount with examination of evidence as provided under Section 115.539 RSMo., or a new election under Section 115.549 RSMo.. The Court thereafter entered its amended (final) judgment. Royster immediately appealed the trial court decision to the Missouri Court of Appeals, Western District (Royster v. Rizzo, WD 72947).

9. On October 6, 2010, after completion of the briefing schedule, the Court of Appeals heard oral arguments, following which the case was submitted to the Court of Appeals for a decision. After the submission of the case but before the Court of Appeals rendered an opinion, Royster discovered additional (news) evidence indicating election irregularities and fraud. This new evidence, which has never been reviewed by any court, was based, in very large measure, on the Election Board's list of voters who actually voted in the primary. Royster and his campaign volunteers had requested this voters' list from the Kansas City Election Board several times beginning within days of the August 3 primary election, but the Election Board (claiming that the list was not immediately available) delivered it well after the trial and too late (as it turned out) for use at the Court of Appeals level.

10. Following receipt of the Election Board's voters list, Royster and his campaign began an investigation which included, among other efforts, comparing the names of voters on the Election Board list to the list of Rizzo's campaign contributors, securing other information from public sources, reviewing a report by a local television station which shows an interview of an individual who voted in the 40th Legislative District (Jackson County) primary but who admitted to being a resident of Clay County, Missouri, and making personal visits to locations in the 40th Legislative District allegedly designated as the home and legal residence of voters whose names were taken from the Election Board's voter list. Upon confirming the irregularities, Royster filed a Motion for the Appointment of a Special Master with the Court of Appeals in order to request the Court to appoint a special master to examine the new evidence discovered during the investigation.

11. The Court of Appeals declined to appoint a special master to hear the new evidence (because of the short time remaining before the general election) and ruled against Royster on the merits of the appeal. Included as part of the packet of evidence and information that accompanies this Petition are copies of Royster's First Amended Petition (election contest) filed at the trial level, the amended judgment of the trial court, the motion for the appointment of a special master, and the opinion of the Missouri Court of Appeals.

12. On information and belief, after Royster filed the motion for the appointment of a special master to examine the new evidence, the Kansas City Election Board conducted its own investigation into Royster's additional allegations of voter fraud. To the best knowledge and belief of Petitioners, the Election Board's investigation consisted of sending a letter of inquiry to at least one of the voters identified by Royster as a nonresident in the motion for the appointment of a special master. To date, the Kansas City Election Board has refused to respond to Royster's requests for information related to the Board's investigation.

13. The additional evidence (sometimes hereafter referred to as "newly discovered evidence" or "new evidence") that was discovered after the appeal was submitted to the Court of Appeals has not been adjudicated, and it constitutes irregularities that are material and are of such magnitude that, had that evidence been available, the trial court would have been required to order either a recount under Section 115.539 RSMo., and a new election. The additional or new (non-adjudicated) evidence is detailed in the Report of Voter Fraud (2010 40th District State Representative Race; Evidence of Voter Fraud and Voter Fraud Intent), which has been filed with the House of Representatives, is incorporated herein, and includes the following:

a. At least two and possibly as many three voters who are related by family to Rizzo and who were not residents of the 40th Legislative District or even Jackson County, Missouri, voted in the primary for the 40th Legislative District. These voters were residents of Clay County, Missouri. One of these voters acknowledged his Clay County residence before a television camera crew.

b. At least one voter who contributed to Rizzo's campaign, but who was not a resident of the 40th Legislative District, voted in the primary and in the general election conducted for the 40th Legislative District. This third voter resides in Lee's Summit, Missouri, which is well outside (by many miles) the geographical boundaries of the 40th Legislative District.

c. Two other voters who were listed on the Election Board's voter list voted claiming an address in the 40th Legislative District, but that same residence is listed as owned by the Jackson County Land Trust and it appears to have been abandoned, closed and boarded up at least by the date of Royster filed his Motion for the Appointment of a Special Master with the Court of Appeals.

d. Another voter used 123 Oakley, Kansas City, Jackson County, Missouri as his residence for purposes of voting in the primary, even though that residence had been vacant for three years preceding the August 3, 2010, primary and was the subject to a demolition order as of the date of the primary.

e. Another voter who was registered in the 41st Legislative District both before and after the August 3, 2010, primary voted in the primary race for the 40th Legislative District.

f. Another voter tried to, but could not, vote because she could not find her polling place which was later discovered to have been combined with a precinct that was not joined with or contiguous to the geographical boundaries of that voter's precinct. This Precinct was one of those the trial court in Royster v. Rizzo found was not improperly joined.

g. During the general election, the same problems with unlawful assistance (in violation of Section 115.445 RSMo.) occurred multiple times in the same precinct located in the 40th Legislative District that was involved in the Royster v. Rizzo contest. The details regarding this report are in the Report of Voter Fraud. On information and belief, officials of the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners were again called out to this precinct to ascertain and correct voter activities that were occurring.

h. The illegal ballots represented by the nine or more voters above-mentioned exceed Rizzo's one vote margin of victory in the primary. This evidence would have satisfied the requirements of both Sections 115.539 and 115.549 RSMo., which means that the primary election for the 40th Legislative District did not produce a lawfully selected and qualified candidate for the November 2010 general election.

i. The 601 Recount that was administered did not follow Ballot Tabulation procedures according to Missouri Code of State Regulations, Division 30 - Secretary of State Chapter 10 - Voting Machines (Electronic) for the proper counting of ballots.

14. The reasons why the additional evidence of voter fraud was not discovered earlier in the proceedings are set forth in the motion of the appointment of Special Master and the written response of Royster's counsel when the Court of Appeals inquired into why the evidence was brought to light after submission of the appeal.

15. A summary of the facts developed at the trial court level (which do not include the newly discovered evidence set forth above) are set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and incorporated herein as additional support for this Petition and for consideration by the House of Representatives when determining Rizzo's qualifications and the result and validity of his election, both at the primary and general elections. Already on file with the House of Representatives, or to be filed concurrently with the submission of this Petition, are copies of the trial transcript and briefs of all parties filed with the Court of Appeals.

16. On information and belief, (a) the Secretary of State, State of Missouri, delegated the responsibility to conduct the 601 recount requested by Royster to one or more officials of the Kansas City Election Board of Commissioners; (b) Royster and his designees who attended the recount were specifically and repeatedly denied the ability to challenge any ballots; (c) within two days prior to the filing this Petition and acting on reports in the news media, officials with the office of Secretary of State, State of Missouri, contacted members of Royster's campaign claiming now that Royster should have been allowed to challenge formally all ballots during the 601 primary recount; and, (d) that recount was hurriedly conducted, and Royster and his designees were repeatedly admonished that they could not challenge ballots.

LEGAL GROUNDS

17. The Missouri Constitution provides as follows:

§ 18. Appointment of officers of houses--jurisdiction to determine membership--power to make rules, punish for contempt and disorderly conduct and expel members

Each house shall appoint its own officers; shall be sole judge of the qualifications, election and returns of its own members; may determine the rules of its own proceedings, except as herein provided; may arrest and punish by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, or imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding ten days, or both, any person not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the house by any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence during its sessions; may punish its members for disorderly conduct; and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all members elect, may expel a member; but no member shall be expelled a second time for the same cause.

(Missouri Constitution, 1945; Article III, Section 18.)

18. The House of Representatives shall be the sole judge of the qualifications, election and returns of its own members, and the court will not intervene. State v. Banks (Mo.1970), 454 S.W.2d 498; The Legislative body of which he is a member has exclusive right to determine elected representative's qualifications to hold or assume office and courts are without jurisdiction to determine issue of removal of residence from district. State v. Hickey (Mo.), 475 S.W.2d 617. (1971)

19. Contested general elections involving a member of the House of Representatives shall be determined by the House of Representatives exclusively. Section 115.563 RSMo.

20. Neither the Contestants nor the voters were afforded a fair election, either during the primary or the general election. Practically and realistically, the primary election remains the single most important, if not the only, component to, and reason for, Rizzo's election to the House of Representative in the general election conducted in November, 2010.

Allegations regarding the New Evidence Discovered

21. The election laws violated by the voters who voted out-of-district in the August 3, 2010, primary election were mandatory statutes. Ballots cast in violation of mandatory election statutes are illegal and may not be counted. If the number of ballots declared to be illegal exceeds the margin of victory, the result of the election, and possibly the validity of the election itself, is in doubt. See Section 115.539, 115.449, and 115.593 RSMo.; Barks v. Turnbeau, 573 S.W. 2d 677 at 681 (Mo. App. ED 1978); Ledbetter v. Hall, 62 Mo. 422 (Mo. 1876); Elliott v. Hogan, 315 S.W.2d 840 (Mo.App. 1958).

22. Included among the mandatory statutes called into question by the newly discovered evidence in this matter are: (1) Sections 115.013 (21) and 115.113 RSMo. - precincts are the geographical area into which each election authority of this State must divide its jurisdiction for purposes of conducting elections, (2) Section 115.115.1 RSMo.- for each election within its jurisdiction, the election authority (the Kansas City Board of Elections) "Shall designate a polling place for each precinct within which any voter is entitled to vote at the election....@", (3) Section 115.163.3 RSMo. - the election authority "shall" send to each registered voter, a voter identification card containing the name and address of the voter, and the voters correct precinct and polling location at which the voter may vote, (4) Section 115.135 RSMo. - "Any person who is qualified to vote, ... shall be entitled to register in the jurisdiction within which he or she resides. In order to vote in any election for which registration is required, a person must be registered to vote in the jurisdiction of his or her residence no later than..." (5) Section 115.139 RSMo.- with limited exceptions pertaining to ownership of real property and absentee voters (which are not applicable here), Any person shall be permitted to vote in any election unless the person is duly registered in accordance with this chapter." (6) Section 115.155 RSMo. - voter must register using statutorily prescribed registration card on which voter states under oath the voter's correct address, township and precinct; (7) Section 115. 430.2(3) RSMo. - voters shall have the duty to appear and vote at the correct polling place.@"; and, (8) Section 115.430.2(1) RSMo.- if a voter refuses to go to the correct polling place, the voter shall be permitted to vote a provisional ballot at the incorrect polling place, but such ballot shall not be counted if the voter was not eligible to vote at that polling place.

23. The classification of the above statutes as mandatory and their importance to the conduct of lawful is underscored by two at least other statutes: (a) Section 115.191 RSMo. authorizes election authorities to "investigate the residence or other qualifications of any voter at any time it deems necessary"; and (b) Section 115.175 RSMo. declares that "Any person who knowingly or willfully gives any false information for the purpose of establishing his eligibility to register to vote or who conspires with another person for the purpose of encouraging his false registration or illegal vote, or who otherwise willfully and fraudulently furnishes false information to a registration official for the purpose of causing a false or fictitious registration,shall be guilty of a class one election offense." See also Section 115.631 (1) and (18) RSMo. – class one election offense, Class C felony for false statements to an election authority or for misleading an election authority in performance of duties and registering to vote not that a person is not legally entitled to register.

24. Individually, and in combination, the statutes that govern this matter (including also those involved in the election contest) constitute a mandate: To be lawful and counted, votes must be cast by qualified, eligible and registered voters, and in the legally correct legislative district and precinct of residence; only lawful votes cast in a lawfully conducted election may be counted.

25. Missouri appellate decisions make it clear that ballots cast by non-resident voters or voters who are not otherwise qualified to vote shall not be counted:

(a) Election invalidated because unqualified voters {because of residence in the case of nine voters, and improper registration in the case of one voter who was classified as “not a legal voter” by the court} were allowed to vote in a city election (Marre v. Reed, 775 S.W. 2d 951 at 956-957 (Mo. 1989)).

(b) Election invalidated because the election authority inadvertently or mistakenly allowed nonresidents to vote, and denied actual residents the right to vote, in a public water supply election (Landwersiek v. Dunivan, 147 S.W. 3d 141 (Mo. App. S.D. 2004)).

(c) Election invalidated because illegal and improperly cast absentee ballots were counted. Elliot v. Hogan, 315 S.W.2d 840 (Mo.App. 1958).

Prior Judicial Proceedings – Violations of Mandatory Election Statutes

26. In addition to the newly discovered (post-appeal, non-adjudicated) evidence described specifically by paragraph above, Royster states that the House of Representatives must consider, as part of its duty to review and pass upon Rizzo’s qualification and right to be seated, the facts and evidence developed in the election contest filed by Royster (Royster v. Rizzo), including the trial transcript, all exhibits, pleadings, briefs of the parties filed with the trial court and the Court of Appeals, and the opinion of the Missouri Court of Appeals, all of which are incorporated herein by this reference

27. If, after such review, the House of Representatives finds independently that the evidence actually produced at the judicial trial established multiple violations of mandatory statutes (including Section 115.445 RSMo.), and that those violations resulted in the casting of unlawful ballots that exceed Rizzo’s margin of victory in the August 3 primary, or that those statutory violations otherwise disqualify Rizzo from being seated by this body, then this House of Representatives must also consider those violations, and the illegal votes cast by reason thereof, when determining the right, eligibility, qualifications of Rizzo to be seated as a member of the House of Representatives representing the 40th Legislative District. Failure to Meet Qualifications to be Seated; Primary and General Elections.

28. The violations of election statutes set forth herein, including the statutes incorporated herein from pleadings in the primary election contest, applicable statutes relating to election offenses, as well as those specifically cited herein, and the evidence in support thereof establish that there were irregularities of sufficient magnitude to cast doubt on the validity and the result of the initial (general election) and the primary election conducted by the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners for the 40th Legislative District. Sections 115.539, 115.549 and 115.593 RSMo.

29. If the evidence of new and additional irregularities, the identity of the voters who voted in the August 3 primary and their true places of residence, and the other wrongful conduct herein set forth had been discovered in time, the August 3 primary that Rizzo won by one vote would have been declared invalid under Missouri law, a new primary election for the 40th Legislative District would have been required, and a lawfully qualified Democrat candidate for the general election would have been selected. Section 115.549 RSMo. Having secured a majority of votes by one in the original August 3 primary by and through an invalid election and violations of Missouri law, Rizzo was not, and could not be, a lawfully selected candidate qualified to run for office in the November 2010 general election. No lawfully qualified candidate won the November 2010 election for the 40th Legislative District. Rizzo, therefore, is not qualified to be seated as a duly elected member of the House of Representatives.

30. Each member of the House of Representatives, and the House as a whole, has a duty to ensure that the election laws of the State of Missouri are properly implemented and that all members of the House are lawfully elected and qualified to be seated. WHEREFORE, Petitioners/Contestants respectfully request the House of Representatives, State of Missouri, to:

- a. Conduct a full evidentiary investigation into the Democrat primary election for the 40th Legislative District conducted on August 3, 2010, including the voters who voted out-of-precinct and out-of district;
- b. Subpoena, retain, protect and preserve all records of the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners relating to voters registered with that election authority and all records relating specifically to the August 3, 2010 primary election and the November 2010 general election, including, but not limited to, all voter registration materials, applications and affidavits that the Kansas City Election Board is required by statute to retain, and all election materials, ballots, precinct registers, tally books, ballots (whether or not cast or used), notes, internal reports, reports of investigations, reports of irregularities, voter and candidate complaints, and statements made by all voters respecting their residence and qualifications to vote;
- c. Conduct such hearings and allow such evidence as shall be deemed necessary or proper, and to accept as evidence the information supplied by Petitioners herewith, the trial transcript and deposition transcripts in Royster v. Rizzo, Case No. 1016-CV25576, and the briefs and motions and all other pleadings filed, and exhibits and evidence introduced, by all parties in that election contest trial and the resulting appeal to the Missouri Court of Appeals, Western District, No. WD72947, and the decisions of the trial and Court of Appeals in that case;
- d. To re-examine the evidence, exhibits and pleadings in Royster v. Rizzo, Case No. 1016-CV25576 for the purpose of determining the qualifications of John J. Rizzo to be seated in the House of Representatives;
- e. Find and determine that the Democrat primary election for the 40th Legislative District conducted on August 3, 2010, was invalid, void and unlawful, and that it failed to result in the election of any lawfully selected candidate qualified to run in the November 2010 general election.
- f. Refuse and decline to seat John J. Rizzo as the representative of the 40th Legislative District;
- g. Find that John J. Rizzo has not met the qualifications to serve as representative of the 40th Legislative District;
- h. Find that the irregularities set forth herein are of sufficient magnitude to cast doubt on the result and the validity of the initial (general election) conducted in November 2010, and the primary election conducted on August 3, 2010, and to take such measures as are necessary to require a new election.
- i. Give notice of this Petition to, and serve the same upon, John J. Rizzo and others as directed by statute;
- j. Allow Contestant his costs and attorney's fees and for such other relief as the House deems just and equitable.

Respectfully submitted,

SUMMARY OF FACTS FROM FIRST HEARING – September 7, 2010

Interpreters/ Escorts – unlawful assistance to voters – Section 115.445 RSMo.

1. The first witness to testify was Lindy Hobkins at the first hearing was an election judge at the Kansas City Museum. She testified that several groups of Somali voters came to the precinct, one of which consisted of three or four Somali women accompanied by a male escort (Tr. 8, lines 1-25; 9, lines 23-25; Tr. 10, lines 1-13).¹ With respect to this particular group, Hobkins stated:

¹The abbreviation "Tr." followed by a page number refers to the transcript of the trial and page number on which the referenced testimony may be found.

a. Unlike other ESL voters (English second language), the group of female Somali voters who were accompanied by the Somali escort “could not communicate on any level at all,” (Tr. 11, lines 11-13) and “stood out to me because they had absolutely not even the most basic rudimentary skills in being able to communicate in English at all....” so much so that she questioned if they were citizens (Tr. 18, Lines 1-25); that when these Somali voters could not even determine who they wanted to vote for by examining sample ballots (Tr. 11, lines 16-25), she finally ask them directly, and several times, “do you know who you want to vote for on any of the ballots.” (Tr. 12, lines 1-3).

b. At that point, the Somali interpreter, who was standing nearby, left the polling place and returned with a Rizzo campaign sign to the polling place where the judges and voters were located. (Tr. 12, lines 4-25) (Exh. 24). The interpreter then “stood in front of me and held it (Rizzo sign) up and pointed to it and said this one, this one, this one.” (Tr. 12, lines 10-25). After pointing to the Rizzo sign, the interpreter took the sign and the voters to the tables with the voting booths, where he stood and the Somali women took a seat to mark their ballots. (Tr. 13, lines 13-20).

c. Because the Rizzo sign was too unwieldy, the interpreter took the sign back to the election judges’ table, and returned to a place behind the voting tables where the Somali women were sitting (Tr. 13, lines 21-25), and “he began to point toward the (Rizzo) sign” that he had placed at the judges’ table” (Tr. 14; lines 1-4; 16-25) while he “was actually leaning into the women’s personal space,” (Tr. 14; lines 16-25; Tr. 15, Lines 1-2), and “he would go in between from pointing to Mr. Rizzo’s sign and pointing on to the ballot” for each of the Somali voters. (Tr. 15, lines 1-9). None of the Somali voters requested an affidavit (oath assistance card) to verify the need for assistance. (Tr. 15, line 10-25). When cross-examined, Hobkins said that she “tried” to determine the name of this interpreter, and whether or not he was related to the Somali voters, but could not “because he spoke no English.” (Tr. 20, lines 1-25).

2. Sean Warren, the Democrat supervisory judge at the Museum, testified that the escort “was over in each individual box (referring to booth) pointing to them and speaking their language, ... but he was directly pointing to them, instructing them basically is what it looked like.” (Tr. 25, lines 1-7).

3. Wendy Jones, who was an election judge at Garfield Elementary School on Election Day, testified that, a. She saw two Somali men and two women escorting and leading Somali voters “inside the polling place,” where she “witnessed myself - I witnessed myself seeing them fill out the ballots. Actually fill out the ballots and actually tell the people - tell the people where to fill out at, what to sign..”, and when she confronted the escorts (interpreter), they claimed to be related to the voters, or that the voters were deaf, or blind or could not read or write ... (Tr. 53, lines 3-16), and that “These were the excuses all day long that we had for these particular four individuals (referring to the escorts) to vote with them and for them. (Tr. 53, lines 17-19).

b. Jones determined from her discussions with the interpreter/escort that not every escorted, Somali voter was related to the escort, and that some of the escorts were not related and were just from the same “tribe or village....” as the Somalis who voted. (Tr. 57, lines 1-11).

c. Some of the escorts signed the voter precinct register for the voters they escorted (Tr. 60, lines 14-25), and some of the escorts actually filled out a ballot for “maybe about eight.” (Tr. 61, lines 17-25).

d. When she decided to peak to the Democrat supervisory judge about the problems with the Somali voters and interpreters, she was told “... well look, you know, we’re just trying to get through the day, you’re making --- you know, we all want to just make a little money here and just get out, you know, just make the best of it and just --- let’s go home.” (Tr. 58, lines 12-21). That supervisory judge tried to stop the escorts, “maybe towards the end of the day, yes.” (Tr. 58, lines 21-25).

4. Elaine Oberg, the Democrat supervisory judge for Ward 11, Precinct 8, the precinct to which Jones was assigned, observed a Somali interpreter who accompanied Somali voters, “help them get registered, find their name,... help them ... pick up a ballot that they should vote on, and then he would take them back to the voting booth and they both would be in the voting booth at the same time” (Tr. 78, lines 1-9), and “He would point usually at the ballot they should take.” (Tr. 78, lines 13-17).

5. Elmer Wyatt was the Democrat supervisory election judge at the Garfield polling tables where the Somali voters appeared (Tr.148, line 9-14). He saw a Somali interpreter stand behind “about five” (5) Somali voters (Tr. 179, lines 12-21; Tr.180, lines1-7) assisting the voters. The same man returned a second time and “did the same thing” (Tr. 180, Lines 17-25), after which Wyatt became suspicious and warned the man not to return to the “poll anymore.” (Tr. 181, Line 1-7). The same man returned a third time, and Wyatt “stopped him at the door ... I didn’t let him come back into the building anymore.” (Tr. 181, lines 8-25). Wyatt also testified that the initials of two judges were placed on the ballot to validate it, that before the register is signed the voter must show identification, after which the vote is eligible to receive a ballot. (Tr. 182; 183). Wyatt also stated he made no mistakes when checking in voters, “I catch them things pretty quickly.” (Tr. 183, lines 18-25; Tr. 184).

6. Mr. Keifer, the Republican Election Board director, acknowledged that the Election Board headquarters received two calls regarding the Somali escorts (sometimes “interpreters”) on Election Day (Tr. 108, line 3-25). He personally visited Garfield after the second call and interviewed the election judges, where he learned about the interpreters from the election judges, “explained the law” to them (referring to judges) about when assistance is permitted, but did not think to remind the judges about the requirement to complete oath assistance cards. (Tr. 109, lines 8-25; Tr. 110-112). Kiefer stated that “it is the voters’ responsibility ...” to complete the oath assistance cards. (Tr.128, lines 11-25; tr. 129, lines 1-11).

Failure of voters to certify residence, sign and initial register; failure of election judges to initial ballots

7. A voter, Billie Robelado, found upon her arrival that the table for her precinct at Garfield was attended by one judge (Dora Spight), and that the ballots were unmonitored and located on the table “as far away from that judge as they could have been.” (Tr. 41; Tr. 42, lines 16; Tr. 42, lines 16-25).

8. The Republican Director of the Election Board identified at the first hearing, (a) 10 ballots without the initials of one or both election judges, six of which came from Ward 11, precincts 3 and 4 (Garfield), the precinct to which Dora Spight was assigned (Exhibits 21 A- G, and 22 and 23; Tr. 89-92; Tr. 11, lines 21-25; Tr. 101, lines1- 25), (b) a precinct map which shows the consolidated precincts that are one of the points on this appeal (Exh.10; Tr. 95); (c) the oath assistance card referred to in the election manuals and is distributed to each polling place for completion by voters needing assistance (Exh. 18; Tr. 102), and none of which were completed or used on Election Day at Garfield or the Kansas City Museum precincts where the Somali escort and interpreters appeared (Tr. 104); and, (d) the Election Board’s instruction manuals which are given to the election judges during training sessions (Exh. 7, 9, 13;Tr. 92-94), and which instruct the judges (1) that the voter must complete the Oath Assistance Card before assistance in voting can be given, (2) that “one person may not assist multiple voters, and (3) on three separate pages, that only family members, one person of the voter’s choice (subject to the one voter per election rule) and election judges may give assistance (pages 20, 22and 25). (Exh. 7, pages 20-24; Exh. 9, pages 20-25). The power point presentation (Exh13) contains a full page on the procedures, rules and restrictions that apply to assistance given to voters. Keifer agreed that election laws require “a lot of oaths..., and that they go the very heart of the election. (Tr. 108-109, line 1).

9. The Republican Director also reviewed the tally sheets for Precincts 11/4,11/ 5 and 11/6, and from that review, concluded that the failures to initial ballots were caused by judges’ mistakes. (Tr. 120-121). This review was not conducted under the supervision of the court, the parties or the attorneys. He did not interview or speak to any of the election judges when he made this conclusion.

10. One of the ballots that lacked the initials of both judges was an absentee ballot, but Mr. Keifer could not identify which judge made the mistake. (Tr. 121). All ballots cast in the primary election were commingled, and it would be impossible to identify ballots cast with assistance by the Somali interpreter. (Tr. 125, line 8-22).

Precinct consolidation

11. The Board consolidated several precincts, Ward 2, precinct 16 with Ward 2, precinct 02, and Ward 2, precincts 12 and 13 with Ward 2, Precinct 10. (Tr. 101-104).

SUMMARY OF FACTS SECOND HEARING –
Additional evidence September 14, 2010

12. At the second hearing, Mr. Keifer testified that (a) voters must sign the precinct (poll) register (Exh. 28, 29) to receive a ballot, and that the voter's "signature signified that they are --- that they are actually a registered voter at that location (precinct) which matches our books (Exh. 28,29; Tr. 161-162); (b) that the voter must initial the register to identify the correct address , and identification is required (Tr. 162, lines 4-23); (c) that election judges initial the voter's signature to verify the identity of the voter (Tr. 162, lines 24-25; Tr. 163); and (d) that the stickers placed on the register to indicate that "the two judges agree that that person who – is who they claim to be , and at that time they issue the ballot. (Tr. 165, lines 1-12).

13. There were multiple problems with the voter register of the precinct where the Somali voters were assisted. The Republican Director identified five (5) instances in which voters did not sign the register, six (6) instances in which voters did not initial the register, nine (9) instances in which the judges failed to initial the register, nine (9) instances in which no sticker was affixed to the register, and five (5) instances (one two times) in which the voters initials do not match the signatures of voters who signed for the ballots.(Tr. 164-173).

14. Keifer testified that he thought the mistakes with respect to the ballots and initials were judges' mistakes. (Tr. 174). On redirect examination, he acknowledged that he had not spoken to the precinct election judges since the election to determine why, or how it was that voters did not sign their names and place their initials on the precinct register. He said he did not know what happened. (Tr. 175).

15. The Election Board consolidated Ward 2, Precinct 16 with Ward 2, Precinct 2, and Precincts 12 and 13 in Ward 2 with Ward 2, precinct 10. (Exh.10). . In one of these consolidated precincts, no voter voted, in any race. (Exh. ; Precinct 2-16 in Exh.10). None of the consolidated precincts questioned by Appellant share common boundaries with the polling place (precinct) to which they were assigned. In order to vote, voters were required to travel past and through other precincts that do not adjoin the precincts of their residence. The trial court determined that the precincts were not improperly consolidated.

1. On the 6th day of October, 2010, the above-captioned matter was submitted to the Court upon oral argument by Appellant and Respondents.

2. That on September 28th , 2010, the Contestee Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners released its list of voters who voted in the August 3, 2010 primary election, which release was subsequent to Appellant submitting his Brief (September 17th), and subsequent to or near the time of said oral argument.

3. That prior to the release of the list of voters who voted in the election, the names on the voter registry was designated as confidential, together with all information on the poll registry, and was not released by the election board, and therefore there was not sufficient time to investigate and brief the Court on the findings of the review until the present.

4. That based upon a review of the recently released list of registered voters who cast votes in the August 3, 2010 Democratic primary for the 40th Legislative District, relevant and material information has become known concerning potentially irregular votes cast in the contest.

5. According to a comparison of the released voting list provided by the Kansas City Board of Elections and other public documents, including the campaign finance disclosure statements of Contestee Rizzo, certain irregularities are evident, including but not limited to the following:

a. A voter who is identified as a contributor of Contestee Rizzo's campaign with an address outside the 40th Legislative District voted in the August 3rd primary using a different address from his residence. Jackson County records demonstrate the voter as residing where the voter is designated on the Rizzo campaign records, which is not in the 40th Legislative District.

b. Two voters who were listed on the voter list voted claiming an address in the 40th Legislative District, but said residence is listed as owned by Jackson County Land Trust and appears to have been abandoned and boarded up as of the date of this Motion.

c. Three voters used the same address which does not exist, but on information and belief, one voter admitted to a local news outlet he resided out of the county.

6. That pursuant to Rule 68.03, "Each Appellate Court in which any action is pending may appoint a master therein."

7. That in the election contest, presently pending in this Court, this Court sits "in equity" and can fashion a remedy which ensures a fair election for the residents of the 40th Legislative District.

8. To assist the Court in fashioning a remedy, Appellant asks the Court to appoint a master to receive and report to the Court evidence of the actions on the part of individuals the master may find, which may further call into question the validity of the election.

9. That pursuant to Rule 68.03(d), Appellant requests the Court to exercise its powers as the Court directs in the most expeditious of matters, and report his or her findings to the Appellate Court, concerning the above allegations.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRD DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Paul Meinsen, Grace Evangelical Church, Jefferson City, Missouri.

The Heavens will praise Your wonders, O LORD; Your faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones. For who in the skies is comparable to the LORD? Who among the sons of the mighty is like the LORD, A God greatly feared in the council of the holy ones, and awesome above all those who are around Him? O LORD God of hosts, who is like You, O mighty LORD? (Psalm 89:5-8a)

We give You much thanks, Father, for another day in which to be of service to You; another day to bring glory to Your Holy Name.

I pray this morning on behalf of these men and women before me asking You to grant them the wisdom they need to lead and serve the people of this great state.

Your servant, King Solomon, needed to know how to lead the kingdom You had given to him. And things have not changed in the past 3000 years. All who are in positions of leadership and authority, Father, still need wisdom from You - wisdom to govern, lead and serve so great a people.

I pray today then that You will give freely that which is needed.

Let them all know what is right, according to the Scripture You have given us.

Let them have the fortitude to do that which is right and to do it with a spirit of humility and grace.

May we all set aside own personal agendas and honor for the good of those we have been called to serve.

May we all learn to fear You and You alone.

We call upon You in this prayer. Please answer and glorify Yourself.

To the glory of Your name, O Lord, I pray in Your Son's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

COMMITTEE REPORT

Committee on Rules, Chairman Diehl reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Rules, to which was referred HR 39, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 39

WHEREAS, attorneys general from 13 states sued the federal government on March 23, 2010, claiming the landmark health care reform bill is unconstitutional. The amended complaint currently features 20 state plaintiffs, with the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) joining as a co-plaintiff on behalf of its members nationwide; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit filed and joined by a total of 20 attorneys general includes and asserts:

- (1) A Commerce Clause claim;
- (2) A Tenth Amendment sovereignty violation for forcing states, among other things, to expand Medicaid coverage;
- (3) A direct tax violation for the one-size-fits all penalty if a person fails to purchase health insurance; and
- (4) A violation of Article 4, Section 4 of the United States Constitution because "the Act deprives [the States] of ... their right to a republican form of government"; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit asks the bill be declared unconstitutional because "the Constitution nowhere authorizes the United States to mandate, either directly or under threat of penalty, that all citizens and legal residents have qualifying health care coverage"; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit also claims the health care legislation violates the Tenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, which says the federal government has no authority beyond the powers granted to it under the Constitution, by forcing the states to carry out its provisions but not reimbursing them for the costs; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit also asserts that the states cannot afford the new law because the health care legislation will add millions of people to state Medicaid rolls, costing some states more than one billion dollars over the next ten years in increased Medicaid expenditures; and

WHEREAS, according to an attorney representing the 20 attorneys general joining in the lawsuit, those state attorneys general "are convinced that the federal health care legislation is fundamentally flawed as a matter of constitutional law, that it exceeds the scope of proper constitutional authority of the federal government and tramples upon the rights and prerogatives of states and their citizens"; and

WHEREAS, on July 7, 2010, Missouri Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder sued members of the Obama Administration responsible for enforcing the provisions of the federal health care reform law. The lawsuit challenges those provisions of the federal health care reform law which actually reduce Missourians access to affordable health care and which violate the Missouri Constitution and the United States Constitution; and

WHEREAS, under the federal legislation, beginning in 2014, most Americans will be required to carry health insurance, either through an employer or government program or by purchasing it themselves. Those Americans who refuse to carry such health insurance will face penalties from the Internal Revenue Service; and

WHEREAS, an overwhelming majority of 71% of Missourians supported the passage of Proposition C in the 2010 General Election in Missouri that protects Missourians from being penalized for refusing to purchase private health insurance or infringe upon the right to offer or accept direct payment for lawful health care; and

WHEREAS, according to the National Conference of State Legislatures, at least 36 states are attempting to limit, alter, or oppose some of the federal legislation's provisions through state constitutional amendments or laws, with many of the proposals seeking to keep health insurance coverage optional for individuals and exempt employers from penalties if they don't offer coverage for workers:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, hereby call on Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster to file an independent lawsuit or join the 20 other state attorneys general from across the nation in challenging the constitutionality and validity of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, the federal health care legislation, and to aggressively defend the validity of Proposition C as voted on by the people of Missouri in the 2010 Missouri General Election; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster.

HOUSE RESOLUTIONS

HR 39, (1-10-2011) - Franz

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

"Frost and chill bless the Lord; praise and exalt Him above all forever. Ice and snow, bless the Lord; praise and exalt Him above all forever". (Daniel 3:67-70)

On this cold morning our thoughts and voices echo the words of the great prophet Daniel, "Frost and chill, bless the Lord; ice and snow, bless the Lord, praise and exalt Him above all forever!" We praise God for the beauty of the snow and the wonderful gift of the change of seasons that our beautiful state experiences each year.

We continue to lift up in prayer all public servants who are in danger. We recall those who have died and/or were wounded in Arizona. Give eternal rest to the dead, rapid healing for the wounded, wisdom to all medical professionals, and gratitude to all who acted rapidly to prevent more violence. Protect and watch over this House and its members, staff, and loved ones. Keep them from harm.

Finally, we recall our Missouri history on this day when in 1822 the Great Seal of the State of Missouri was adopted, and in 1865 when slavery was abolished.

We ask this as all things in God's Holy Name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16)

O God our Father, Who is the source of light and life, Whose glory is in all the world, without Whom no one is strong, no one is good - make us one with You as we begin this day. May our faith in You make us strong, hold us steady and keep us serene as we face the responsibilities and the tasks which confront us.

May we always know that You are with us. May we always believe that You are leading us. Amid all our differences may we be one in spirit, one in purpose, and one in good will as we give ourselves in deep devotion to the welfare of our beloved State of Missouri and for the good of all citizens. May the light of Your Spirit shine forever in our hearts.

In God's name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 18, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise: be thankful to Him and bless His name. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endures to all generations. (Psalm 100:4,5)

Almighty God, Ruler of the Universe, Sustainer of Life, and Creator of People, unto You do we lift our hearts in prayer and in praise. We thank You for the gift of life ever fresh from Your hand, for the blessings of home, for work to do and the strength to do it, for friendships which warm our hearts, for a nation that is free and for our faith in You which keeps us strong, holds us steady and carries us through every experience with honor.

May Your wisdom make us wise, may Your patience help us to be more patient: may Your love strengthen us to love others and may Your forgiveness help us to forgive one another.

Sustained by Your presence may we walk the paths of truth and love this day, harboring no ill will, but filled with good will growing evermore like You who have revealed Yourself. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

In solemn truth I can see that God is no respecter of persons, but that in every nation the man who reverences Him and does what is right is acceptable to Him. (Acts 10:34)

O God, Creator of the World, Sustainer of Life and the Ruler of all Nations, in quietness and reverence we lift our hearts anew to You, praying that Your grace may cleanse us, Your power may strengthen us, and Your love develop in us greater good will. Forgive our selfishness, our narrowness, our prejudices, and our pride. Set us free from the unneeded bonds which separate us and draw us together in You as one people in spirit and in truth.

Bless our Honorable Governor who will be present in this Chamber in a few hours to deliver his State of the State address. Give him illumination to express with clarity both strength and weakness of these times in which we live. May our ears and minds be attentive and reflective to His message. We ask this in Your most Holy Name for You live and reign forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR JEREMIAH W. (JAY) NIXON

Thank you, Legislative Leaders; Judges of the Missouri Supreme Court; Lieutenant Governor Kinder; state officials; members of the General Assembly; members of my cabinet; and my fellow Missourians.

I'd like to thank my wife Georganne, and our sons, Jeremiah and Will, for their strength and support every day.

Because every day, we are reminded that the world we live in can be a dangerous place.

From Afghanistan to Arizona, there is no shortage of violence and conflict.

Fortunately, there is no shortage of heroes ready to step up to defend others, and the freedoms we hold so dear.

One of them is here with us tonight.

Perry Coy is a member of the Greatest Generation.

His acts of bravery during the Second World War earned him three Purple Hearts, the Bronze Star and the Silver Star and, just last month, I was proud to present him with the French government's highest decoration for valor: the Legion of Honor.

Fresh out of Bolivar High School, Perry Coy joined the Army. The Allies had just landed in Normandy, and from the moment he set foot on French soil, he was in the thick of it. He fought through the Ardennes Forest in France and into the heart of the Third Reich.

Along the way, Staff Sergeant Coy braved enemy fire to pull back a wounded medic and he took out a nest of Nazi gunners raining hellfire on the GIs serving beside him.

Certain, special people take an oath to serve. They may wear the uniform of our armed forces or our police, our firefighters or our state troopers. But they are alike in one fundamental way.

Like Staff Sergeant Coy, they have a spirit that compels them to run toward trouble - not away from it.

They put themselves in harm's way so that we might stay safe.

Out where the ice is thin and the storm rages... where the bombs burst and the bullets fly... that's where you'll find them.

On behalf of every man and woman who has ever worn a uniform of service, will Staff Sergeant Perry Coy please stand and accept the humble thanks of our state.

Perry Coy grew up in the Great Depression, fought the Nazis at the young age of 19, and came through it all an optimist.

With faith in God, faith in the future, and faith in himself, he married his sweetheart, Mary Lou, raised a family and started his own business, right here in Jefferson City.

He personifies the values that have made this nation great in war and in peace.

Courage.

Tenacity.

Hard work.

And last, but surely not least, optimism.

The faith, that no matter how difficult things are today, our best days lie ahead.

Times are tough.

Too many folks can't make ends meet, can't find the jobs they want, or worry they'll lose the jobs they have.

But even in these tough times, I'm optimistic.

I'm optimistic because I know that by working together ... focusing on shared values ... and putting progress above politics ... brighter days are ahead for the Show-Me State.

Together, we're fighting every day, for every job.

We're fighting for every worker who needs a new skill to compete.

We're fighting for every veteran looking for work.

We're fighting for every student who dreams of college and a career.

We're fighting every day for every small business on Main Street.

We're fighting every day for every established business that wants to expand.

And we're fighting every day for every new business that wants to set up shop in the Show-Me State.

My focus is crystal clear.

By fighting every day for every job, we are turning this economy around.

The recession that began three years ago cast a long shadow across our nation.

Millions of Americans are still unemployed.

And while there are signs that our economy is beginning to turn the corner, I won't be satisfied until all Missourians can provide for their families.

How will we do it?

By fighting hard every day for every job.

By making government smarter and more efficient.

By investing in strong communities to attract and keep good jobs, and by balancing our budget without raising taxes.

There are already signs that our hard work and fiscal discipline are paying off.

The number of Missourians filing new unemployment claims is down 17 percent, year over year.

Personal income grew last year, and is expected to keep on growing this year.

November and December revenues were up, indicating that people are cautiously beginning to spend.

That's good news for our economy in the short term, and it bodes well for the long term.

Make no mistake: The national recession hit Missouri hard.

But after losing jobs back in 2008 and 2009, we turned the corner in 2010, and are poised for job growth this year.

We will continue to be aggressive and relentless, fighting every day for every job. And we'll continue to be aggressive and relentless in making government smarter and more efficient.

We've kept our fiscal house in order with prudent financial controls, rigorous cost reductions, and smarter, more efficient government.

That's earned Missouri a AAA credit rating - the best you can get - from all three rating agencies. We're one of the few states in the nation that can make that claim.

It's a big vote of confidence in our state, and saves taxpayers millions of dollars a year in interest.

Compare that to what's going on in other states:

- Texas has a $15 billion deficit;
- Kansas hiked its sales tax last year;

- New Jersey's got a $54 billion pension deficit; and
- Illinois just raised personal and corporate income taxes.

Now look at our state.

Fiscal responsibility is a value we share here in the Show-Me State.

With the cuts included in my budget tonight, I will have reduced government spending by more than $1.8 billion since I took office.

I'll have cut state payroll by over 3,300 positions.

All across state government, a leaner workforce is doing more with less.

These decisions are never easy, but they are necessary.

And because we've been frugal, we have money to invest in the things that matter most to Missourians: jobs, education, health care, and law enforcement.

We've also got to grow our economy, creating a climate where the entrepreneurial spirit can thrive.

That spirit is alive and well in Missouri's small businesses that are mighty engines of job growth.

To help them move forward, we eliminated the franchise tax on 16,000 small businesses in 2009.

We created a small business loan fund to spur investment and job growth.

With us tonight are three outstanding Missouri entrepreneurs who are growing their own success.

With a $25,000 small business loan, Kelly Burke bought new equipment at his sawmill in Marionville and hired three more workers. Burke Timber is now a diversified business, producing lumber, hardwood floors, pallets and railroad ties.

Marina Remmers used her small business loan to buy commercial printing equipment. She moved her fledgling design company out of her basement and into a storefront in Bethany - and quadrupled her sales.

Chris Heston in Columbia used his state loans to expand his woodworking business and hire another worker. His wooden toys won a Parents Choice Award in 2010.

America was built on the dreams of solitary self-starters like these, with the moxie to invest in themselves.

Please give these home-grown entrepreneurs a big hand.

Cynics say that such small wins don't add up to much.

Cynics don't build things.

Optimists do.

Every job we add matters.

It matters to the person who gets the job.

It matters to their families and communities.

And it matters to Missouri.

Fighting every day for every job, we are turning this economy around.

To compete for 21st Century jobs, we need a highly skilled and well-trained workforce. Our Training for Tomorrow and Caring for Missourians initiatives are preparing thousands more workers for the careers of tomorrow.

We've invested millions in training workers to meet the growing demand in fields like computer technology, clean energy, automotive technology and health care.

Much of that training is taking place at our excellent community colleges, where the link between education and employment has always been strong.

Moberly is training LPNs to become RNs - boosting their earning capacity.

St. Louis is training workers to repair hybrid cars.

Crowder has doubled the number of grads from its EMT program.

We've also invested $40 million in training more than 1,000 doctors, dentists, nurses and other professionals through our Caring for Missourians initiative. With the booming demand for health care, they'll be ready to step into careers the minute they graduate.

That's why this year I am expanding Caring for Missourians to provide more opportunities for nursing students at our four-year schools.

I ask the Legislature to join me in making this critical investment in our health and the health of our economy.

Last year, I said that we needed to bring broadband to every corner of our state. We all know that technology drives today's job market. We live in a high-speed, digital world, where the most tech-savvy, early adapters will succeed.

Soon, 88 Missouri counties will be better connected, at faster speeds, to each other and to the world.

High-speed broadband will have a dramatic impact on our economy and on our quality of life.

It will connect tens of thousands of homes in rural Missouri to a network of vital community services like fire and police, schools and hospitals, libraries and government.

For a family doc in Lancaster, it means real-time access to specialists in St. Louis.

For students in DeKalb County, it will widen the gateway to infinite online resources for research and class work, both at home and at school.

For cattlemen in Texas County, it will bring faster access to new markets in Brazil and Japan.

The competition for federal funds was steep, but our MoBroadbandNow partnership was a stunning success.

More than $260 million will be coming to Missouri, which in turn will generate tens of millions of dollars in new investment, and create thousands of new jobs.

We're fighting every day for jobs for our veterans.

Last summer, I visited our troops in Iraq, Kuwait and Afghanistan.

And everywhere I went, I heard the same question: "Will there be a job for me when I come home?"

Tonight, I'm pleased to report that our efforts helped hundreds of veterans find jobs last year.

One year ago, I announced the “Show-Me Heroes” job initiative to help our veterans quickly regain their footing in civilian life. More than 1,000 Missouri employers stepped up to take the Show-Me Heroes pledge to give veterans first crack at a job interview.

I’d like to thank each and every employer who took the Show-Me Heroes pledge and hired a veteran, and I urge every employer in our state to do the same.

One of these employers is here tonight.

Tacony Manufacturing, which makes vacuum cleaners in St. James, took the Show-Me pledge and hired three veterans. The company also took advantage of our Work Ready Missouri program, which retrain unemployed workers to compete in today’s economy.

Please give a hand to the Show-Me Heroes employers at Tacony: Nancy Montgomery and John Kaido.

Even during these challenging times, we’re making steady progress in driving job growth in the short term and laying the foundation for economic strength in the long term.

Because of our hard work of the past two years, major companies have announced plans to bring thousands of jobs to our state, including:

300 jobs at Unisys in St. Louis;
400 jobs at Sabreliner in Perryville;
500 jobs at Expedia in Springfield;
500 jobs at Jet Midwest in Kansas City;
and 800 jobs at IBM in Columbia.

And there’s more.

Nordic Windpower USA is relocating from California to Kansas City. It plans to invest $16 million and create 200 jobs, making wind turbines that produce clean, renewable energy.

Express Scripts is investing $73 million to expand in St. Louis. That will preserve more than 1,000 jobs, and create 150 more.

Pioneer Hi-Bred has broken ground on a $55 million soybean research plant in New Madrid County, creating 50 new jobs and helping thousands of Missouri farmers grow better beans.

Going forward, we will fight every day to help established Missouri businesses grow, and help new ones take root.

We’re going to make things in Missouri, and keep the “P” for products in GDP.

Boots at Redwing in Potosi;
Batteries at Energizer in Maryville;
Windows at Quaker Windows in Freeburg;
Aluminum at Noranda in Marston;
Engine parts at Bodine in Troy;
Bullets and brakes, aircraft and appliances.

And Missouri will keep on building things, and that includes automobiles.

For a hundred years, Missouri has been an automotive state.

The industry pumps billions of dollars into our economy, and supports nearly 26,000 Missouri jobs.

But as I stood here one year ago, those jobs were in peril.

There was real concern that Ford's Claycomo plant might be the latest casualty of the 20-year decline of the U.S. auto industry.

So last summer, I called the General Assembly into special session to strengthen Missouri's automotive industry.

We fought for every man and woman whose job was on the line.

And I'm proud to announce that working together, we won that fight.

Yesterday, I inked a deal with the Ford Motor Company that guarantees thousands of jobs, $400 million of new capital investment, and a bright future for the Ford plant in Claycomo.

With us tonight to celebrate this partnership is Ford's director of strategic planning, Steve Lewis.

Steve, please stand up and say hello.

It sure feels nice to be at the wheel when the U.S. auto industry turns a corner.

Ford's commitment will help keep thousands of hard-working Missourians on the job at Claycomo and at automotive suppliers in Hannibal, Nixa, Perryville, Joplin, Mexico - and every corner of our state.

And it's proof positive of what we already know: that the best darn workers in America are right here in the Show-Me State.

We've got some here with us tonight. Let's give them all a round of applause.

Missouri's workforce is one of our greatest assets.

And it's one of the reasons companies like Ford want to come to the Show-Me State, and stay in the Show-Me State.

But to be competitive, we constantly need to raise the level of our game.

As I listen to Missouri leaders in business, labor and education, I hear the same thing again and again: "We must make it easier for business to do business in Missouri."

They tell me that while we've made good use of our economic development tools to create jobs in the past, some of our incentives are outdated and need to be replaced.

Even the best tools need sharpening from time to time.

The feedback from our business experts is the foundation of my Compete Missouri jobs initiative. Compete Missouri is focused on providing smarter business incentives to drive job growth and sharpening our competitive edge.

First, we will consolidate our six current business incentives, and roll them into one. To qualify for these incentives, companies will have to provide good-paying jobs, and give their employees access to health care. For the first time, we'll give an extra bump to established Missouri companies, and offer added incentives to small business owners.

Second, we will roll our three worker-training programs into one, and align it with our Compete Missouri incentives. Worker-training assistance will be available to businesses as small as Ardent Outdoors, which employs 15 people in Macon, and as large as Boeing, which employs thousands.

Third, my budget for 2012 provides an additional $5 million for job training. That will give employers more resources to maintain a highly skilled workforce and sharpen their competitive edge.

That's good for business, good for our workers and great for our economy.

Every business in Missouri needs reliable, affordable energy to grow and prosper.

And every Missouri family needs reliable, affordable energy to heat and cool their homes.

In November, I announced a historic agreement that will transform the economy of our state - creating thousands of jobs and benefitting millions of Missouri consumers of electric power.

That agreement put the wheels in motion for the construction of a second, state-of-the-art nuclear power plant in Callaway County.

Missouri has some of the lowest electric rates in the nation. That's attractive to businesses and families. But as our energy needs grow, we need to be looking now for new sources of clean, abundant and affordable power.

Building a second nuclear plant will create thousands of good-paying jobs for all our construction trades: iron and sheet metal workers; carpenters and cement masons; boilermakers and bricklayers; plumbers and pipefitters; teamsters and laborers; electrical workers and operating engineers.

They built Callaway One. And they will build Callaway Two.

As we move ahead on Callaway Two, we must make sure that we protect the interests of Missouri ratepayers - and their pocketbooks. That is why my budget includes more funding for a strong office of public counsel.

Building the next generation of nuclear power plants. Advancing the frontiers of biotechnology. The 21st Century economy is knowledge-based, and the best jobs will belong to those with the best education.

Education is a lifelong journey that begins at birth.

That's why my budget for 2012 provides funding for programs to get our youngsters off to a good start, like First Steps, Head Start, and Early Childhood Special Education.

And we must continue to invest in young minds from the day our children enter their first classrooms to the day they accept their diplomas.

So, even in a difficult year, we will protect our investment in K-12 classrooms.

As you know, states received additional federal funds, to be allocated to school districts this year.

But, in spite of receiving this money, some states are making cuts to their K-12 classrooms.

Not in Missouri.

In Missouri, we're partnering with our school districts to allow this money to be used to keep stable funding for our K-12 classrooms - not only for fiscal year 2011, but also for fiscal year 2012.

In the next ten years, Missouri student achievement must rank in the nation's top ten if we expect to compete for the best jobs in the global economy.

How will we accomplish that?

Hard work, high standards and higher expectations.

It's an ambitious goal.

But as any parent or teacher will tell you, children will rise to meet our expectations.

And we must do more to help students make the leap from high school to college.

For too long, too many excellent Missouri high school students have been unable to get A+ scholarships - through no fault of their own - simply because their schools weren't designated as A+ schools.

That's just not fair.

Every good student in Missouri deserves the opportunity to go to college - whether they live in the urban core in St. Louis or Kansas City, or down a country road in the Bootheel.

I'm talking about students like Alicen Brown and Willie Love.

Alicen is a junior at Southwest High School in Kansas City.

She's the president of the student body, a member of the district's scholars committee and a peer mediator.

She gets good grades and has already taken courses that will count toward her college degree.

But Alicen can't get an A+ scholarship because Southwest High has not been designated an A+ school.

That's just not fair.

Willie Love is a senior at Carnahan High School in St. Louis.

He's a scholar-athlete with honors in baseball, football and basketball.

He's vice-president of a community service club at school, and works with youngsters at the Demetrius Johnson football camp.

Willie's just the kind of young achiever that A+ scholarships are intended to help.

But because his school isn't designated as an A+ school, he can't even apply.

That's just not fair.

Good students like Alicen and Willie deserve an equal opportunity to succeed - no matter what high school they attend.

I call on every member of the legislature to extend our A+ program so that outstanding students all across our state are guaranteed access to A+ college scholarships.

In recognition of their outstanding achievements, please welcome Alicen Brown and Willie Love.

My budget for 2012 also includes millions of dollars for Missouri's most successful college scholarship programs, including:

Bright Flight, to help keep our top students at our excellent Missouri institutions;
Access Missouri, which serves students with the greatest financial need; and A+, which has helped more than 50,000 students afford and attend college.

And to improve our students' preparation for careers in science and technology, we'll give a $500 bonus to A+ and Access Missouri recipients who score well on Advanced Placement exams in math and science.

Because job prospects and lifetime earnings are tied directly to education, we've got to lift our aspirations for higher education as well.

Today, just 35 percent of Missouri adults hold college degrees.

We need to kick that number up to 60 percent if we want to compete for the best jobs in the new economy.

How?

By bringing the dream of a college education within reach for more Missouri families.

College affordability has been a top priority of mine since Day One.

So, while tuition soared by double digits around the nation, Missouri schools kept tuition and fees flat for two years running. Even if some schools impose modest tuition increases next year, we'll have protected Missouri families from the sharp tuition spikes seen in other states.

And the response has been overwhelming. College enrollment jumped by 10,000 students last year, hitting record highs at more than half of Missouri's universities, and boosting applications at all of them.

That's progress.

Creating jobs.

Balancing the budget without raising taxes.

Investing in our future.

Now let me tell you about what we're doing to make government smarter and more efficient.

By merging the Highway Patrol and Water Patrol, we've kept the same number of troopers on our roads and waterways with less bureaucracy. Savings to taxpayers: $3 million.

- We've sold government cars, cut mileage reimbursements and used technology to drastically reduce state travel. Savings to taxpayers: close to $7 million in the next two years.
- We've gotten rid of unused office space, consolidated the state health and agriculture labs and renegotiated building leases. Savings to taxpayers: more than $5 million.
- We've cut state energy bills by two percent, on top of last year's 5.6 percent. Savings to taxpayers: $3 million.
- And we've reformed and modernized the state pension system, which will keep it solvent now and for years to come.

But we must do more this year.

A bipartisan tax credit commission spent four months reviewing Missouri's 61 tax credit programs. They looked at which credits are giving taxpayers a good return on their investment - and which are not.

I ask the members of the Legislature to allow this commission to present its recommendations at open hearings in the House and Senate.

We should give the commission's report serious and full consideration.

Because Missourians work hard for their money.

We owe it to taxpayers to make sure they get the best bang for their buck.

Creating jobs.

Balancing the budget without raising taxes.

Investing in the future.

Making government smarter and more efficient.

All of these things are essential to the well-being of our state.

But there are special moments when, touched by the better angels of our nature, our work rises to meet a higher standard. At those moments, what we do here transforms lives.

January 1, 2011, was a landmark day for thousands of families across Missouri.

That was the day insurance companies had to start providing meaningful coverage for the diagnosis and treatment of children with autism.

Some day, when we look back at our shared history, at the battles won and lost in these chambers, this piece of legislation will be one of our landmarks, as well.

Last October, we took another bold step to help families caring for loved ones with other types of developmental disabilities, like Down syndrome and cerebral palsy.

The Partnership for Hope is designed to keep families together, and improve their quality of life by providing support for their loved ones at home.

I'd like to introduce you to a young man sitting in the back gallery.

His name is Nick Ayers. He's 31 and lives in Lincoln County with his parents, Russell and Janet.

Nick has cerebral palsy. He can do a lot on his own, but he needs a hand preparing meals, managing personal business, and staying safe.

Janet and Russell want their son to live a full and happy life as an independent member of their community. But as they get older, they worry that keeping up with Nick will become a real challenge.

Like too many Missouri families, the Ayerses had been on a waiting list for support services for years ... and years...and years. Today, we're providing those services for them, and hundreds more families - at home, at a fraction of the cost of institutional care.

Please join me in welcoming Nick, Janet and Russell Ayers, as representatives of Missouri's life-changing Partnership for Hope.

Last year, we passed historic DWI legislation with strong bipartisan support.

That new law is making our highways safer for everyone.

With us tonight are the superintendent of the Highway Patrol, Colonel Ron Replogle, and Sergeant Blaine Adams from Troop E in Poplar Bluff.

Sergeant Adams has made an amazing 1,060 DWI arrests - more than any other current member of the patrol.

1,060 DWI arrests.

Can you imagine how many lives this one trooper has saved?

For its exceptional record of educating the public, and protecting Missourians from drunk drivers, the Patrol received the national 2010 Outstanding Law Enforcement Agency Award from Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

Colonel Replogle and Sergeant Adams, on behalf of all the men and women of the Highway Patrol, please stand and accept the gratitude of your state.

But we must do more to protect the health of our citizens.

This year, my budget will provide good nutrition for thousands of house-bound seniors who rely on home-delivered meals.

Our seniors also need help paying for their medicine.

We have a program to help low-income seniors and people with disabilities keep up with the skyrocketing costs of prescription drugs.

The Missouri Rx program is a lifeline for more than 200,000 Missourians every year.

But Missouri Rx is set to expire this summer.

We cannot let that happen.

My budget includes funds for the Missouri Rx program, but the Legislature must extend it.

Nobody should be forced to choose between paying for medicine and putting food on the table.

Nobody.

I urge the members of the General Assembly to reauthorize this vital program and send it to my desk.

There's another piece of the people's business that requires our attention: ethics reform.

The people of Missouri need to know that their elected representatives are working in the public interest - and not for personal gain.

Right now, anyone can write a check for any amount of money, and tip the balance of an election.

That is corrosive to our democracy.

We need to set strict limits on campaign contributions that are undermining the sovereignty of the people and subverting the fundamental principle of free and fair elections.

We need meaningful ethics reform this year.

In the past year, I've visited businesses and schools, farms and factories, hospitals and veterans homes from Bethany to Bernie, and seen a lot of countryside in between.

One of the many things that make Missouri such a special place to live is our wonderful system of state parks. There's a quiet beauty to Missouri that weaves its own kind of magic.

That may explain why I've never lived anywhere else.

Never wanted to.

Like thousands of Missourians, I grew up hunting and fishing, hiking and canoeing with my Mom and Dad. Georganne and I have continued that outdoor tradition with our family.

While visiting our state parks last year, Georganne and I saw Missouri's first State Parks Youth Corps in action.

At a time when it's been especially tough for young people to find jobs, the State Parks Youth Corps put money in the pockets of more than 1,000 young workers - at no cost to the state.

The National Association of State Park Directors gave our State Parks Youth Corps its top award for innovation in 2010. And I'm pleased to report that the Youth Corps will put hundreds more kids to work in our parks this summer.

Believe me, those young folks worked hard.

We saw them rebuilding stone walls at Roaring River, painting cabins at Montauk, and blazing trails at Cuivre River and Rock Bridge.

And while they were at it, they learned valuable life and work skills:
Show up on time;
do your best;
and get the job done.

Working outside all summer long, they also gained a new respect and appreciation for nature.

If you look up in the balcony, you'll see them in their green T-shirts.

Please welcome the members of Missouri's first State Parks Youth Corps.

This is a critical time for Missouri.

The shadows of the recession are lifting.

The bright rays of recovery are gathered on the horizon.

Now, more than ever, Missouri needs its leaders to focus on what is most important:
Creating jobs;
making government smarter and more efficient;
investing in strong communities; and balancing the budget without raising taxes.

The people of Missouri want problem-solvers, not politicians.

The people of Missouri want results, not rhetoric.

Because, as we've seen in Washington, when politicians cling to ideology, and kick common sense to the curb, when they focus on the party line and not the bottom line... nothing gets done. Missouri is blessed with a long and strong tradition of bipartisanship.

And in Missouri, we get things done.

Why?

Because, here in the heartland, we share common values and common goals.

We want the opportunity to work hard at work worth doing, whether it's building the next generation of fuel-efficient trucks, or growing better soybeans to feed a hungry world.

We want our children to get a first-rate education that prepares them to compete for the best jobs in the global economy.

We want safe, strong communities where neighbors help neighbors.

We want a vibrant and prosperous economy, where “Made in America” is still the gold standard - whether it’s stamped on an F-150 or an F-15.

And we make them both, right here in the Show-Me State.

For as long as I’ve been a public servant - as a state senator, as attorney general and now, as your governor - my approach has been pretty simple.

Bring folks together.

Hash things out.

Find solutions.

Now, we all know the folks in this room have differences of opinion.

And we all know we’ll have some disagreements.

But it’s worth remembering that we all serve the people of Missouri.

All of your constituents are my constituents... and the common good is our common goal.

I’d like to close tonight with the words of a native son.

He’s been a strong and steadfast servant of the people, and a champion for Missouri commerce, education and agriculture for more than 40 years: Senator Christopher S. Bond.

Here’s what Kit had to say last month in his farewell address on the Senate floor:

“In a world today, where enemies are real ... it is important to remember there is a lot of real estate between a political opponent and a true enemy.”

“There will be issues where people of good conscience cannot come together.”

“But never let what cannot be done interfere with what can be done.”

In the days and weeks ahead, let us take those words to heart, and act on them in good faith.

Let us do what can be done... what must be done ... for the people of Missouri.

God bless Missouri.

God bless America.

Thank you, and good evening.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Dempsey.

Speaker Tilley resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The Lord God is a sun and shield: The Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly. (Psalm 84:11)

"Spirit of God, descend upon my heart;
Wean it from earth; through all its pulses move;
Stoop to my weakness, mighty as You are;
And make me love You as I ought to love."

Spirit of God descend upon our hearts - this is our prayer this snowy morning. Make us daily aware of Your presence and in Your spirit may we find the attitudes we need for this day. Slow us down, Lord, slow us down; we work too hard, we eat too fast, we hurry too much. Help us to take time to think clearly, time to pray sincerely, and above all time to cultivate the sense of Your presence in our hearts and in our homes. Then give us the faith and the fortitude to walk uprightly in Your way, for the good of the State of Missouri and for the glory of Your Holy Name.

We recall today our Missouri history when in 1872 Governor Brown became the first occupant of the current Executive mansion. Bless all who have resided there, past, present and future. Strengthen the dedication of all who strive to protect and preserve this residence. We beg this favor in the name of Him, Who is the Ancient of Days. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 24, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Paul Meinsen.

The songwriter wrote, "O LORD, our Lord, How majestic is Your name in all the earth, Who have displayed Your splendor above the heavens! When I consider Your heavens, the work of Your fingers, The moon and the stars, which You have ordained; What is man that You take thought of him, And the son of man that You care for him? Yet You have made him a little lower than God, And You crown Him with glory and majesty...O LORD, our Lord, How majestic is Your name in all the earth! (Psalm 8:1, 3-5,9)

Father, You have given us another day to be at Your service – for this we give thanks.

I pray this afternoon on behalf of these, Your servants, for discernment as they serve the people of Missouri. May they know what is best and right for those whom they represent.

Surround them, O Lord, with people who will give wise counsel. May they see the difference between the good and the bad and I pray that they will choose that which is good.

May they remember the Proverb that "Loyalty and truth preserve the king, And he upholds his throne by righteousness" (Proverbs 20:28).

May we all learn to fear You and You alone. Draw each one unto Yourself.

We call upon You in this prayer. Please answer and be glorified.

To the honor of Your name, O Lord, I pray in Your Son's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the ninth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

God who made the world and all things therein seeing that He is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though He needed anything, seeing He giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. (Acts 17:24,25)

Eternal God, from Whom comes all things good, true, and patient, in the quiet of this morning we open our hearts to You. You are everywhere, You are everywhere present, and now in the silence of this moment we would find You and would be found by You. Breathe on us, breath of God, fill us with life anew, that we may love what You love, and do what You would do.

Strengthen our Faith, renew our courage, make us great in goodness and good in greatness that we may triumph over wrong and conquer every evil intention. Put beneath us, the representatives of our beloved state, Your strong foundation and send us forth our vision clear, our faith confirmed, and our spirits strengthened to be Your loyal and loving children, so we would open our hearts to Your transforming presence.

We ask this in Your Holy Name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

RULE 3. Quorum

A quorum exists when a majority of the members of the Committee are present.

RULE 4. Form of Complaints

A. All complaints filed with the Speaker against a member of the House shall be made by a member. The complaints shall be confidential and shall be referred to the Committee on Ethics within ten (10) days and shall be in writing and under oath, setting forth in simple, concise and direct statements:

(1) The name and legal address of the member or members acting as complainant;

(2) The name of the member of the House alleged to have engaged in the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office or other acts constituting ethical misconduct. "Misconduct" means:

(a) Any conduct constituting a legal or moral wrong which materially impairs the member's ability to perform the duties of his office or substantially impairs public confidence in the General Assembly;

- (b) Any conduct constituting a conflict of interest under Chapter 105, RSMo;
 - (c) The intentional filing of a false complaint or the filing of a complaint in reckless disregard of the truth.
 - (3) The nature of the alleged crime, misconduct, neglect, corruption or other unethical act, including when applicable, the specific law, rule, regulation or ethical standard violated;
 - (4) The facts alleged to have given rise to the violation; and
 - (5) Where the facts are alleged upon the information and belief of the complainant, the complaint shall so state and set forth the basis for such information and belief.
- B. All documents in the possession of the complainant that are relevant to and in support of the allegations shall be appended to the complaint.

RULE 5. Initial Examination of the Complaint by the Committee

A. Within thirty (30) days of the assignment of the complaint by the Speaker, the Committee shall determine if it is in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules, and whether on the face of the complaint, the allegations contained therein are within the jurisdiction of the Committee, and if so, whether the allegations merit proceeding to a preliminary hearing. The complainant shall not act as a member of the Committee at a hearing in which the complainant is likely to be called as a necessary witness. A respondent shall not act as a member of the Committee for purposes of his complaint.

B. Complaints determined not to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules shall be returned to the complainant with a general statement that it is not in compliance with the Rules of Procedure. The complaint may be resubmitted in the proper form.

C. Once a determination has been made that the complaint complies with Rule 4 of these Rules, a majority of the Committee appointed shall vote by roll call to either:

- (1) Defer action pending completion of any other administrative, disciplinary, commission, or judicial proceeding;
- (2) Proceed to a preliminary hearing;
- (3) Dismiss the complaint. When a motion to proceed to a preliminary hearing fails on a recorded vote, the complaint shall be immediately dismissed.

D. In determining whether or not to proceed the Committee shall consider the following:

- (1) The credible evidence contained in the complaint or appended thereto of the commission of a crime, misconduct, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, or other acts violating applicable ethical standards;
- (2) Other administrative or disciplinary action by other interested bodies;
- (3) Criminal investigation, Missouri Ethics Commission proceeding, or judicial proceedings, either civil or criminal; and
- (4) Other relevant circumstances that would justify expediting, declining or deferring action by the Committee.

E. Complaints determined to be in compliance with Rule 4 of these Rules and accepted for a preliminary hearing shall be transmitted to the respondent with a copy of the Rules of Procedure and notice in writing that the respondent has twenty-one (21) calendar days to respond to the complaint either by way of answer or motion pursuant to Rule 6 of these Rules. The complainant shall also be notified, in writing, of the action of the Committee. Examination of the complaint and the determination of Rule 5.C. shall be conducted in a closed meeting.

RULE 6. Answers and Motions

A. If the Committee determines that the complaint merits proceeding to a preliminary hearing, the respondent shall have twenty-one (21) calendar days in which to respond to the complaint by way of answer or motion, unless this time period is waived by the respondent. Any answer or motion shall be in writing, signed by the respondent and his counsel, if he has one, and shall be limited to the following:

(1) An admission or denial under oath, of the allegations set forth in the complaint, including negative and affirmative defenses, and any other relevant information, including supporting evidence which the respondent may desire to submit. Failure to file an answer within the time prescribed shall be considered by the Committee as a denial of each allegation;

(2) An objection to the jurisdiction of the Committee to investigate the complaint; or

(3) An objection to the participation of any member of the Committee in an investigation of the complaint on the grounds that the member cannot render an impartial and unbiased decision in the case. The majority of the members present shall rule on the objection to the participation of any member of the Committee. A temporary replacement shall be made to serve on the Committee on Ethics for all actions concerning a particular complaint for any member of the Committee who is prevented from acting on a complaint under these rules.

B. Any motion submitted pursuant to this rule is not in lieu of an answer and shall be accompanied by a memorandum of points and authorities. Answers or motions not submitted within the twenty-one (21) calendar-day period shall not be considered by the Committee.

C. The Chairman of the Committee shall pass upon such motions as soon as practicable and notice of the decision shall be furnished to the respondent and the complainant. A motion to quash a subpoena shall be decided by the Chairman of the Committee.

D. Time limitations imposed by this Rule may be extended when, in the discretion of the Chairman, such extension would facilitate a fair and complete inquiry and may be shortened when the Chairman determines that there are special circumstances compelling expedition, and upon twenty-four (24) hours notice of said action to the respondent and the claimant.

E. In the event that a special counsel is retained by the Committee, the attorney-client privilege is applicable to the Committee and not to the House.

RULE 7. Preliminary Hearings

A. A preliminary hearing may be held to hear arguments based on the pleadings submitted in the case. The preliminary hearing shall be an open meeting. The committee shall provide the complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent an opportunity to present, orally or in writing, a statement, which shall be under oath or affirmation, regarding the allegations and any other relevant questions arising out of the pleadings. A complainant or respondent who is represented by counsel shall not be questioned in the absence of counsel unless an explicit waiver is obtained.

B. The committee shall require that testimony be given under oath or affirmation. The form of the oath or affirmation shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?" The oath or affirmation shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths. Members of the committee shall be given an opportunity to question the complainant and respondent or counsel for the complainant or respondent following the opening statements.

C. At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, a majority of the Committee shall vote by roll call to either:

(1) Dismiss the complaint, or

(2) Proceed by

- (a) undertaking an investigative hearing; or
- (b) deciding the case based upon the preliminary hearing.

A decision based upon a preliminary hearing shall require the consent of the respondent.

D. If the committee decides to make a summary decision of the case and the respondent accepts this disposition the Committee may, by a majority vote, recommend one of the following sanctions:

- (1) Letter of reproval;
- (2) Reprimand; or
- (3) Censure.

RULE 8. Investigative Hearings

A. An investigative hearing may be held on the record to receive evidence upon which to base findings, conclusions, and recommendations, if any, to the House. The Committee may require, by subpoena or otherwise, or by subpoena duces tecum, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers and documents as it deems necessary. The Committee may obtain a court-issued subpoena in the event that any person refuses to obey the subpoena issued by the Committee.

B. Prior to setting a hearing date and issuing subpoenas for witnesses, the Committee shall resolve the scope and purpose of the hearings. A copy of this statement of scope and purpose shall be furnished to all witnesses. During the course of the hearings the Committee may expand or contract the scope in light of evidence received.

C. The order of the investigative hearing shall be as follows:

(1) The Chairman shall open the hearing by stating the Committee's authority to conduct the investigation, the purpose of the investigation and its scope.

(2) The complainant and the respondent or counsel for the complainant and respondent shall be permitted to make opening statements. Such opening statements shall not exceed fifteen minutes each.

(3) Testimony from witnesses and other evidence pertinent to the matter under investigation shall be received in the following order:

- (a) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the complainant;
- (b) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the respondent;
- (c) Witnesses and other evidence offered by the Committee staff; and
- (d) Rebuttal witnesses.

(4) The Chairman or his designee shall examine each witness. The Committee members may then question the witness. The respondent or his counsel may then cross-examine the witness. Redirect or recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion. With respect to witnesses offered by the respondent, a witness shall be examined first by the respondent or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the complainant or his counsel, if he has one, and then may be cross-examined by the Chairman or his designee. Committee members may then question the witness. Redirect and recross examination may be permitted in the Chairman's discretion.

D. Testimony of all witnesses shall be taken under oath. The form of the oath shall be: "Do you solemnly swear (or affirm) that the testimony you will give before this Committee in the matter now under consideration will be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth (so help you God)?” The oath shall be administered by the Chairman or Committee member designated by him to administer oaths.

RULE 9. Admissibility of Evidence

A. The object of the hearings shall be to ascertain the truth. Any evidence that is relevant and probative shall be admissible, unless privileged or unless the Constitution otherwise requires its exclusion. Objections going only to the weight that should be given to evidence will not justify its exclusion.

B. The Chairman or other member presiding shall rule upon any question of admissibility of testimony or evidence presented to the Committee. The Chairman or other member presiding may limit the presentation of repetitious evidence. Rulings shall be final unless reversed or modified by a majority vote of the Committee members present.

C. At an investigative hearing, the burden of proof is on the complainant with respect to each count to establish the facts alleged therein clearly and convincingly by the evidence that he introduces.

RULE 10. Witnesses

A. A subpoena to a witness shall be served sufficiently in advance of his scheduled appearance to allow him a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Committee, to prepare for the hearing and to employ counsel should he so desire.

B. Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Chairman, no member of the Committee or staff shall make public the name of any witness subpoenaed by the Committee before his scheduled appearance.

C. Witnesses at investigative hearings may be accompanied by their counsel for the purpose of advising them concerning their constitutional rights and to raise objections to procedures or to the admissibility of testimony and evidence. Counsel for a witness other than the respondent shall not be permitted to engage in oral argument with the Committee. After a witness has testified, his counsel may submit to the Committee, in writing, any questions he wishes propounded to his client and any request for additional witnesses or other evidence. Such request may be granted in the discretion of the Committee.

D. The respondent may apply to the Committee for the issuance of subpoenas for the appearance of witnesses or the production of documents on his behalf. The application shall be granted upon good cause shown by the respondent that the proposed testimony or evidence is relevant and not otherwise available. The application shall be denied if not made at a reasonable time or if the testimony or evidence would be merely cumulative.

E. The respondent is entitled to present witnesses in his behalf. However, the Chairman may limit such testimony when, in his discretion, he finds the testimony is repetitious or cumulative.

F. Each witness subpoenaed by the Committee shall be reimbursed for those reasonable expenses approved by the Committee.

G. Each witness shall be furnished a printed copy of the Rules of Procedure and the pertinent provisions of the Rules of the House applicable to the rights of witnesses.

H. Within ten (10) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the Chairman shall notify the respondent, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear before the Committee. Within five (5) calendar days before the scheduled investigative hearing, the respondent shall notify the Committee, in writing, of the witnesses that are to appear in his behalf. Additional witnesses may be brought before the Committee, in the discretion of the Chairman or other member presiding and upon good cause, if their whereabouts or existence were unknown to the respondent at the time for submission of the witness list to the Committee.

RULE 11. Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

A. At the completion of the preliminary hearing or investigative hearings, the Committee, by a majority vote of its members, shall, within forty-five (45) days, adopt a report stating its findings and conclusions on the complaint. The report shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House and shall be printed in the House Journal. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is not well-founded, the report shall so state, and shall include a copy of a Letter of Reproval if the Committee authorized such sanction. In the event the Committee finds that the complaint is well-founded, the report shall state the Committee's recommendation in a resolution appended thereto.

B. The resolution shall state the Committee's findings and conclusions on each allegation in the complaint with the recommendation that the House:

- (1) Expel the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution;
- (2) Punish the member as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Missouri Constitution, by reprimand on the adoption of the resolution, or by censure by the Speaker in open session; or
- (3) Take no further action, stating the reasons therefor.

RULE 12. Matters Not Covered in These Rules of Procedure

The Rules of Procedure of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Ethics of the 112th Congress shall be taken as guidelines in deciding questions, issues, and other matters not otherwise provided for in these Rules of Procedure, except that the Rules of the Missouri House of Representatives governing the party representation on committees shall apply to this Committee.

Committee on Rules, Chairman Diehl reporting:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 31, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Paul Meinsen.

Through the prophet, Isaiah, the LORD stated, "For I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is no one like Me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things which have not been done, Saying, 'My purpose will be established, And I will accomplish all My good pleasure'...Truly I have spoken; truly I will bring it to pass. I have planned it, surely I will do it." (Isaiah 46:9-10)

Father, I pray this afternoon for Your mercies as the winter storm approaches. May we all see those around us who are in need and may we personally extend a hand of compassion in helping them.

I also pray, O Lord, for these You have ordained to lead the state of Missouri. May they govern in a way which glorifies You. May they seek that which is righteous and may they defend it with honor. In their discourses may they speak with respect for all.

I pray too, O Lord, for my fellow citizens of this great state. I pray that we will learn what it means to respect and honor those You have appointed to lead. Too many times, we have prayed for these leaders out of one side of our mouth and then spoken words of scorn, hatred and dishonor from the other. Instead, Lord, even if we disagree on issues, may we always show the honor due to these servants of Yours – honor which You have commanded in Your Scripture.

May we all learn to fear You and You alone. Draw each one unto Yourself.

We call upon You in this prayer. Please answer and be glorified. For You are good and Your love endures forever.

To the honor of Your name, O Lord, I pray in Your Son's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

PERFECTION OF HOUSE BILL

HCS HB 163, relating to unemployment compensation benefits, was taken up by Representative Fisher.

Representative Richardson offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 163, Page 7, Section 288.062, Line 208, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“288.330. 1. Benefits shall be deemed to be due and payable only to the extent that moneys are available to the credit of the unemployment compensation fund and neither the state nor the division shall be liable for any amount in excess of such sums. The governor is authorized to apply for an advance to the state unemployment fund and to accept the responsibility for the repayment of such advance in order to secure to this state and its citizens the advantages available under the provisions of federal law.

2. (1) The purpose of this subsection is to provide a method of providing funds for the payment of unemployment benefits or maintaining an adequate fund balance in the unemployment compensation fund, and as an alternative to borrowing or obtaining advances from the federal unemployment trust fund or for refinancing those loans or advances.

(2) For the purposes of this subsection, "credit instrument" means any type of borrowing obligation issued under this section, including any bonds, commercial line of credit note, tax anticipation note or similar instrument.

(3) (a) There is hereby created for the purposes of implementing the provisions of this subsection a body corporate and politic to be known as the "Board of Unemployment Fund Financing". The powers of the board shall be vested in five board members who shall be the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, director of the department of labor, and the commissioner of administration. The board shall have all powers necessary to effectuate its purposes including, without limitation, the power to provide a seal, keep records of its proceedings, and provide for professional services. The governor shall serve as chair, the lieutenant governor shall serve as vice chair, and the commissioner of administration shall serve as secretary. Staff support for the board shall be provided by the commissioner of administration.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary:

a. No officer or employee of this state shall be deemed to have forfeited or shall forfeit his or her office or employment by reason of his or her acceptance of an appointment as a board member or for his or her service to the board;

b. Board members shall receive no compensation for the performance of their duties under this subsection, but each commissioner shall be reimbursed from the funds of the commission for his or her actual and necessary expenses incurred in carrying out his or her official duties under this subsection.

(c) In the event that any of the board members or officers of the board whose signatures or facsimile signatures appear on any credit instrument shall cease to be board members or officers before the delivery of such credit instrument, their signatures or facsimile signatures shall be valid and sufficient for all purposes as if such board members or officers had remained in office until delivery of such credit instrument.

(d) Neither the board members executing the credit instruments of the board nor any other board members shall be subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the issuance of the credit instruments.

(4) The board is authorized, by offering for public negotiated sale, to issue, sell, and deliver credit instruments, bearing interest at a fixed or variable rate as shall be determined by the board[, which shall mature no later than ten years after issuance,] in the name of the board in an amount determined by the board. Such credit instruments may be issued, sold, and delivered for the purposes set forth in subdivision (1) of this subsection. Such credit instrument may only be issued upon the approval of a resolution authorizing such issuance by a simple majority of the members of the board, with no other proceedings required.

(5) The board shall provide for the payment of the principal of the credit instruments, any redemption premiums, the interest on the credit instruments, and the costs attributable to the credit instruments being issued or outstanding as provided in this chapter. Unless the board directs otherwise, the credit instrument shall be repaid in the same time frame and in the same amounts as would be required for loans issued pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Section 1321[; however, in no case shall credit instruments be outstanding for more than ten years].

(6) The board may irrevocably pledge money received from the credit instrument and financing agreement repayment surcharge under subsection 3 of section 288.128, and other money legally available to it, which is deposited in an account authorized for credit instrument repayment in the special employment security fund, provided that the general assembly has first appropriated moneys received from such surcharge and other moneys deposited in such account for the payment of credit instruments.

(7) Credit instruments issued under this section shall not constitute debts of this state or of the board or any agency, political corporation, or political subdivision of this state and are not a pledge of the faith and credit of this state, the board or of any of those governmental entities and shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation upon the incurring of indebtedness. The credit instruments are payable only from revenue provided for under this chapter. The credit instruments shall contain a statement to the effect that:

(a) Neither the state nor the board nor any agency, political corporation, or political subdivision of the state shall be obligated to pay the principal or interest on the credit instruments except as provided by this section; and

(b) Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state nor the board nor any agency, political corporation, or political subdivision of the state is pledged to the payment of the principal, premium, if any, or interest on the credit instruments.

(8) The board pledges and agrees with the owners of any credit instruments issued under this section that the state will not limit or alter the rights vested in the board to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the owners or in any way impair the rights and remedies of the owners until the credit instruments are fully discharged.

(9) The board may prescribe the form, details, and incidents of the credit instruments and make such covenants that in its judgment are advisable or necessary to properly secure the payment thereof. If such credit instruments shall be authenticated by the bank or trust company acting as registrar for such by the manual signature of a duly authorized officer or employee thereof, the duly authorized officers of the board executing and attesting such credit instruments may all do so by facsimile signature provided such signatures have been duly filed as provided in the uniform facsimile signature of public officials law, sections 105.273 to 105.278, when duly authorized by resolution of the board, and the provisions of section 108.175 shall not apply to such credit instruments. The board may provide for the flow of funds and the establishment and maintenance of separate accounts within the special employment security fund, including the interest and sinking account, the reserve account, and other necessary accounts, and may make additional covenants with respect to the credit instruments in the documents authorizing the issuance of credit instruments including refunding credit instruments. The resolutions authorizing the issuance of credit instruments may also prohibit the further issuance of credit instruments or other obligations payable from appropriated moneys or may reserve the right to issue additional credit instruments to be payable from appropriated moneys on a parity with or subordinate to the lien and pledge in support of the credit instruments being issued and may contain other provisions and covenants as determined by the board, provided that any terms, provisions or covenants provided in any resolution of the board shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this section.

(10) The board may issue credit instruments to refund all or any part of the outstanding credit instruments issued under this section including matured but unpaid interest. As with other credit instruments issued under this section, such refunding credit instruments may bear interest at a fixed or variable rate as determined by the board.

(11) The credit instruments issued by the board, any transaction relating to the credit instruments, and profits made from the sale of the credit instruments are free from taxation by the state or by any municipality, court, special district, or other political subdivision of the state.

(12) As determined necessary by the board the proceeds of the credit instruments less the cost of issuance shall be placed in the state's unemployment compensation fund and may be used for the purposes for which that fund may otherwise be used. If those net proceeds are not placed immediately in the unemployment compensation fund they shall be held in the special employment security fund in an account designated for that purpose until they are transferred to the unemployment compensation fund provided that the proceeds of refunding credit instruments may be placed in an escrow account or such other account or instrument as determined necessary by the board.

(13) The board may enter into any contract or agreement deemed necessary or desirable to effectuate cost-effective financing hereunder. Such agreements may include credit enhancement, credit support, or interest rate agreements including, but not limited to, arrangements such as municipal bond insurance; surety bonds; tax anticipation notes; liquidity facilities; forward agreements; tender agreements; remarketing agreements; option agreements; interest rate swap, exchange, cap, lock or floor agreements; letters of credit; and purchase agreements. Any fees or costs associated with such agreements shall be deemed administrative expenses for the purposes of calculating the credit instrument and financing agreement repayment surcharge under subsection 3 of section 288.128. The board, with consideration of all other costs being equal, shall give preference to Missouri-headquartered financial institutions, or those out-of-state-based financial institutions with at least one hundred Missouri employees.

(14) To the extent this section conflicts with other laws the provisions of this section prevail. This section shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 23.250 to 23.298.

(15) If the United States Secretary of Labor holds that a provision of this subsection or of any provision related to the levy or use of the credit instrument and financial agreement repayment surcharge does not conform with a federal statute or would result in the loss to the state of any federal funds otherwise available to it the board, in cooperation with the department of labor and industrial relations, may administer this subsection, and other provisions related to the credit instrument and financial agreement repayment surcharge, to conform with the federal statute until the general assembly meets in its next regular session and has an opportunity to amend this subsection or other sections, as applicable.

(16) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit the officials of the state from borrowing from the government of the United States in order to pay unemployment benefits under subsection 1 of this section or otherwise.

(17) (a) As used in this subdivision the term "lender" means any state or national bank.

(b) The board is authorized to enter financial agreements with any lender for the purposes set forth in subdivision (1) of this subsection, or to refinance other financial agreements in whole or in part, upon the approval of the simple majority of the members of the board of a resolution authorizing such financial agreements, with no other proceedings required. [In no instance shall the outstanding obligation under any financial agreement continue for more than ten years.] Repayment of obligations to lenders shall be made from the special employment security fund, section 288.310, subject to appropriation by the general assembly.

(c) Financial agreements entered into under this subdivision shall not constitute debts of this state or of the board or any agency, political corporation, or political subdivision of this state and are not a pledge of the faith and credit of this state, the board or of any of those governmental entities and shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation upon the incurring of indebtedness. The financial agreements are payable only from revenue provided for under this chapter. The financial agreements shall contain a statement to the effect that:

a. Neither the state nor the board nor any agency, political corporation, or political subdivision of the state shall be obligated to pay the principal or interest on the financial agreements except as provided by this section; and

b. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state nor the board nor any agency, political corporation, or political subdivision of the state is pledged to the payment of the principal, premium, if any, or interest on the financial agreements.

(d) Neither the board members executing the financial agreements nor any other board members shall be subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the execution of such financial agreements.

(e) The board may prescribe the form, details and incidents of the financing agreements and make such covenants that in its judgment are advisable or necessary to properly secure the payment thereof provided that any terms, provisions or covenants provided in any such financing agreement shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this section. If such financing agreements shall be authenticated by the bank or trust company acting as registrar for such by the manual signature of a duly authorized officer or employee thereof, the duly authorized officers of the board executing and attesting such financing agreements may all do so by facsimile signature provided such signatures have been duly filed as provided in the uniform facsimile signature of public officials law, sections 105.273 to 105.278, when duly authorized by resolution of the board and the provisions of section 108.175 shall not apply to such financing agreements.

(18) The commission may issue credit instruments to refund all or any part of the outstanding borrowing issued under this section including matured but unpaid interest.

(19) The credit instruments issued by the commission, any transaction relating to the credit instruments, and profits made from the issuance of credit are free from taxation by the state or by any municipality, court, special district, or other political subdivision of the state.

3. In event of the suspension of this law, any unobligated funds in the unemployment compensation fund, and returned by the United States Treasurer because such Federal Social Security Act is inoperative, shall be held in custody by the treasurer and under supervision of the division until the legislature shall provide for the disposition thereof. In event no disposition is made by the legislature at the next regular meeting subsequent to suspension of said law, then all unobligated funds shall be returned ratably to those who contributed thereto.

4. For purposes of this section, as contained in senate substitute no. 2 for senate committee substitute for house substitute for house committee substitute for house bill nos. 1268 and 1211, ninety-second general assembly, second regular session, the revisor of statutes shall renumber subdivision (16) of subsection 2 of such section as subdivision (17) of such subsection and renumber subdivision (17) of subsection 2 of such section as subdivision (16) of such subsection."; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

God is love: and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God and God in him. (1 John 4:16)

O God, You are the Father of all weather. We thank You for every expression of Your love to us, and for the experience of love we enjoy in the home, in our circle of friends, and here in the halls of the State House.

Strengthen the ties that bind us together. Give us courtesy and consideration in our attitude toward one another. May we not allow our disagreements to make us disagreeable, or our differences to make a difference in our relationships, but now and always may the spirit of goodwill abide in our hearts. Keep us ever mindful of Your presence, eager to do Your will and loyal to the dignity within ourselves.

We pray for rapid healing of Representative Wanda Brown, may the Divine physician grant her the recuperation necessary to resume her duties.

Protect our State and its citizens during this period of snow emergency. Protect all who must travel, work and serve today and tomorrow. Restrain this wintery blast according to Your will.

Finally, as we begin the month dedicated to recalling the contributions of all Africans and African-Americans to the history of our nation and state may our eyes truly see the dignity of all peoples. We beg this in the name of the One in Heaven. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Beth Duckworth, First Methodist Churches of Mokane, Steedman, and Tebbetts.

Dear Holy and Righteous God. We pause at this time and humble ourselves before Your greatness. Your majesty is so vast the heavens cannot contain You. As leaders, we realize it is a sacred privilege to have been elected and appointed to serve in these offices by the people of the State of Missouri. With this in mind, I ask that You sharpen our minds and make sensitive our hearts so we might discern Your preferences. Our primary goal today is to please You, accomplishing Your will and not our own. It takes many to perform these tasks, so please surround these dignitaries with men and women who would be sensitive to Your voice and are willing to give virtuous counsel.

We take the time to remember the citizens of this state. Please lend them Your favor. Unite them and instill in them a renewed vision, the same optimistic vision You foreordained for those men and women who founded this territory. In the era of today our needs are varied, from economic rejuvenation - to guidance in how to preserve the precious natural resources - to providing outstanding education for our young people. Forgive us for the times when we may have missed the mark. Let each one in this room today see themselves as the marshals of justice, the hands for those who have no access, and the voices for those who have no voice. I ask that the presence of the Holy Spirit grace us now, lending wisdom, imparting guidance, and bestowing blessings on all in this room. In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not weary; and they shall walk and not faint. (Isaiah 40:31)

Quietly and sincerely, Our Father, do we wait upon You. Without the strength which You alone can give we faint, falter and walk not in faith and love. With the strength You do cause to arise within us, we are made ready for every responsibility, equal to any experience and adequate for all of life. Make us ready for responsibilities of this day, equal to the experiences of this hour and adequate for the actions we take this session of the Missouri House.

Strengthen our Speaker as he leads and presides over us; and all Members of the House as they take action on behalf of our citizens. In Your strength may we be made strong indeed, in the name Almighty we beg and pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

This is life eternal, to know Thee the only true God, and the One, whom Thou hast sent. (John 17:3)

Eternal Father of our souls, once more we humbly and reverently bow our heads in Your presence, offering unto You the morning devotion of our hearts. You are the source of light and life. You are the fountain of flowing love. You are in everything that lifts and liberates the human soul. Lift us, we pray You, and liberate our spirits that we may be led from the seen to the unseen, from the unreal to the real, from things as they appear to be to the things as they truly are.

Bless all those who have dedicated their lives to the eradication of all diseases of the human heart. We lift them up in a special way during this month. Guide their efforts and grant every success to their cures.

Give wisdom to our Chief Justice who will be present in this Chamber in a few hours. May his words inspire us in all things to be just and to fear not. May each one of us draw the things as we see it, for the God of things as they are: in Your dear Name, for the good of Missouri, we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as printed.

Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable William Ray Price, Jr., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Price was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais where he delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Mr. President Pro Tem, members of the General Assembly: It is my honor to deliver this 38th State of the Judiciary Address.

I never have seen a more challenging time for our state. Regardless of political philosophy, one thing is clear. Significant cuts have been made and will be made to Missouri's budget. To the extent necessary and possible, the courts have shared and will continue to share in spending reductions without complaint.

The Missouri court system, the third separate but equal constitutional branch of government, operates on less than 2% of the state budget. Yet in 2010 we heard more than 171,000 contract cases, 42,000 landlord-tenant cases, 17,000 juvenile cases, 12,000 probate cases, 110,000 family and domestic cases, 41,000 felony cases, and 115,000 misdemeanor cases. Despite the state's economic condition, whether dipping or hopefully recovering, our workload does not diminish. The court system is a core function of government that must perform, and perform well, for our state to function and thrive.

Don't overlook the obvious. Even in this time of economic challenge, we are still the greatest civilization in the history of humankind, supported by a free market economy that can exist only within the certainty of law. Goods and services can be bought and sold, money can be exchanged, people can plan for the future, but only because they can trust in a fair and impartial judiciary to protect their property and their rights.

There are two specific concerns I want to talk with you about. I spoke about them last year, and they are still the two most important issues that we face together for the future of Missouri. One calls for action; one does not.

First, we continue to over-incarcerate nonviolent offenders, while we have failed to expand drug courts and other diversionary and reentry programs to capacity. The result is a state that is not as safe as we want it to be and a waste of taxpayer dollars.

From the 1980s, in Missouri and across the nation, we attempted to incarcerate our way out of crime and illegal drug use. We thought just putting people in prison would make them better or scare them straight. We spent billions of dollars and it did not work. We were tough on crime, but we were not smart on crime. Consider these numbers.

In 1982, 612,000 people were behind bars in state prisons across the country. By 2008, that number had risen almost fourfold to 2.3 million people. In 2010, the United States incarcerated a higher share of its population than any other country in the world. The cost has been staggering. State correctional spending across our country increased from $11.7 billion, in 1988, to $47.3 billion in 2008. (One in 31: The Long Reach of American Corrections, The Pew Center on the States, www.pewcenteronthestates.org; The High Budgetary Cost of Incarceration, Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2010, www.cepr.net)

In an article published just this January, Stanford law professor Joan Petersilia noted:

What we are seeing today is a growing recognition that our approach to dealing with convicted criminals is simply too costly. Not only is the price too high, but the benefits are too low. The states now spend an estimated $50 billion on corrections annually, and the growth of these outlays over the past 20 years has outpaced budget increases of nearly all other essential government services (Beyond the Prison Bubble, The Wilson Quarterly, Winter 2011, p.52)

Missouri had 5,953 individuals in state prison in 1982; by 2009, the number had grown fivefold to 30,432. In that same time period, from 1982 until 2009, our Department of Corrections budget rose from $55 million to $665 million.

It costs more than $16,400 per year to incarcerate an individual, without counting the cost of the prison itself. The cost of building a prison is about $100 million. For violent criminals, who endanger innocent men, women and children, there may be little choice. But for many of the 14,700 nonviolent offenders, this prison-based strategy is not working and it is costing us an arm and a leg.

The key measurement of the failure of this strategy is the recidivism rate. That's the number of people who are returned to prison after they have been released. In Missouri, 44.6% of nonviolent offenders are reincarcerated within two years of release; 52% of nonviolent offenders are reincarcerated within three years of release; and 58.5% of nonviolent offenders are reincarcerated within five years of release. More than one half of the people released from our penitentiaries are returned within five years.

A real life example of recidivism was the 35-year-old St. Joseph man who was arrested for drunken driving on June 16, 2010, just three hours after he was released from prison. (The Kansas City Star, July 17, 2010)

Punishment is a necessary part of our criminal justice system, but our real goal for nonviolent offenders is to teach them their lesson so they can become productive, law-abiding members of our society. The goal is not to lock them into a life of crime, to make them permanent wards of the state on an installment program of incarceration after incarceration, at $16,400 per year. Newt Gingrich wrote this:

The key to public safety and fiscal sanity is not just getting dangerous people off the streets but also making sure that men and women who eventually leave prison have changed and can stay crime-free on the outside. (Atlanta Journal Constitution, March 23, 2010)

Governor Rick Perry of Texas said it this way:

I believe we can take an approach that is both tough and smart ... [T]here are thousands of non-violent offenders in the system whose future we cannot ignore. Let's focus more resources on rehabilitating those offenders so we can ultimately spend less money locking them up again. (www.rightoncrime.com)

It should be absolutely clear that when half of the nonviolent offenders are returned to prison after release, we have not taught them the right lesson, and, the danger of crime – the millions of dollars of cost to the Missouri taxpayer – goes on and on and on.

Over-incarceration of nonviolent offenders has been a big-government, throw-money-at-the-problem strategy that simply did not and does not work. Despite our tough-on-crime rhetoric, it is time that we face reality. Prison is the most expensive and least effective strategy for a significant number of nonviolent offenders. All it does is house them in expensive buildings, guard them with state workers, feed and give them health care paid for with precious state dollars and force them to associate with criminals more dangerous than they are. By spending all of our money on prison, there is not enough left to spend on the alcohol and drug treatment and the education and job training necessary to break their cycle of crime. Proof is in the numbers: 44.6% are back in two years; 58.5% are back in five years.

A group called Right on Crime, whose members include Grover Norquist, Edwin Meese and William Bennett, said this:

... the corrections system must align incentives with our goals of public safety, victim restitution and satisfaction, and cost-effectiveness, thereby moving from a system that grows when it fails to one that rewards results. (www.rightoncrime.com)

Professor Petersilia said it this way:

It should not come as a surprise to learn that we have a corrections system that does not correct Former prisoners account for an estimated 15 to 20 percent of all arrests among adults. That means thousands of Americans are being victimized every year by criminals who have already done time without experiencing "correction." (Beyond the Prison Bubble, The Wilson Quarterly, Winter 2011, p.53)

There is a better way. All across the country, states are turning to cheaper, more effective, alternative sanctions than prison for nonviolent offenders.

Drug courts are one of the best examples of tough, effective, local alternatives to prisons. Depending on the study, between 60% and 80% of people in prison are there for drug-related crimes or have drug or alcohol issues. Study after study, nationally and in Missouri, show that drug courts are the most effective way to deal with drug- and alcohol-addicted people at a fraction of the cost of prison. Missouri has more than 9,700 drug court graduates with a minimal recidivism rate.

There are other evidence-based criminal sanction strategies, each matched to the particular risks and characteristics of the offender that also work that are far less expensive and far more effective than prison. We need to move from anger-based, prison-focused sentencing that ignores cost and effectiveness to evidence-based alternative sanctions that change troubled lives and focus on results.

With your help, we have expanded drug courts and DWI courts across Missouri. Unfortunately, they are still underfunded by half. We barely have scratched the surface with family drug courts and reentry courts, but I especially want to tell you about two pilot programs. First, in Jackson, Greene and St. Louis counties and in St. Louis city, we tested a program to divert juveniles from detention facilities. The program reduced detention admissions by approximately 50% with better results from the juveniles. The savings from this program will be substantial. We are expanding this program into five additional circuits.

The other pilot program is veterans court. Veterans court focuses on returning veterans whose psychological scars from service lead them to drugs and trouble and sometimes violence when they get home. In St. Louis city, Drug Court Commissioner Jim Sullivan has established a veterans court with twelve participants. Drug Court Commissioner Phil Britt is in the process of establishing a rural veterans court in Butler, Carter, Dunklin, Ripley, Stoddard and Wayne counties with a target population of twenty to twenty-five veterans. We owe our veterans this kind of help when they need it, but our resources are already stretched thin.

From a moral, a fiscal and a law-and-order perspective, drug courts, DWI courts, juvenile diversion programs, veterans courts, reentry courts and community supervision strategies are better investments of taxpayer money, for their target populations, than prisons.

I want to be absolutely clear. I am not advocating that we reduce prison populations just to save money. Nonviolent offenders are still law breakers, and they will break laws until they learn their lesson. What I am saying is that we need to do a better job teaching nonviolent offenders the right lessons. That takes more than prison; it takes more than slap-on-the-wrist probation. Drug and alcohol addiction must be broken; discipline and job skills must be learned. When that can be done better, outside of expensive prison walls, that is what we should do. Results matter, public safety matters, taxpayer dollars matter, saving lives and restoring families matter.

I also want to make clear that this is not a management problem at the Department of Corrections. Director Lombardi, his staff, and the probation and parole officers of this state, are excellent and dedicated public servants. Because of their leadership and because of the nearly 3,000 drug court diversions each year, we have avoided building at least two new prisons. That is, at least, $200 million of avoided costs, just for the buildings, let alone the tens of millions of dollars of operational costs. Missouri has started in the right direction, but we need to go farther and to do better.

The people of America are ready for a change. A poll taken last September showed that 86% of Americans agreed that “We have too many low risk, nonviolent offenders in prison. We need alternatives to incarceration that cost less and save our expensive prison space for violent and career criminals.” Eighty-nine percent of Americans agreed that “Ninety-five percent of people in prison will be released. If we are serious about public safety, we must increase access to treatment and job training programs so they can become productive citizens once they are back in the community.” And 84% of Americans agreed that “Prisons are a government program, and just like any other government program they need to be put to the cost-benefit test to make sure taxpayers are getting the best bang for their buck.” (Public Attitudes on Crime and Punishment, The Pew Center on the States, www.pewcenteronthestates.org)

We need to expand our existing diversionary treatment court programs. We need to require, as a condition for early release from prison, education or job training and drug treatment, if needed. We need to establish a more robust program for reentry supervision for those who are released. The reduction in the number of nonviolent offenders in our prisons will more than fund these efforts. We need to be tough and smart on crime.

Transitioning from where we are to where we need to be is the hard part. It will take detailed study and cooperation among the state, the counties, the courts, the prosecutors, the defenders and our law enforcement agencies. I am thankful to your leaders, Speaker Tilley and President Pro Tem Mayer, who have joined with Governor Nixon and me in signing a letter seeking a federal Justice Reinvestment Initiative grant to study how this should be done. They have shown political courage and the type of bipartisan leadership necessary to make Missouri a safer and better place. Please recognize Speaker Tilley and President Pro Tem Mayer for their far-sighted leadership.

The second major issue that I want to talk with you about is a fair and impartial judiciary. Solomon is the example of the greatest judge. When he first became King of Israel, the Revised Standard Version of the Bible says he asked the Lord for “an understanding mind to govern thy people, that I may discern between good and evil.” The New Jerusalem Bible and most other translations have Solomon asking for an understanding “heart,” instead.

I never have worried about this difference in translation, because both are true. A good judge needs an understanding mind and an understanding heart to find justice.

It is not easy finding justice. Justice is not a physical thing that you can touch or hold or measure. Often it is shaped by the eye of the beholder and, often, relative to the beholder’s particular point of view. What seems just to one may seem unjust to another.

A good judge must have the courage to accept that not all people will see justice as he or she does. Sometimes, a good judge must have the courage to risk the anger of the majority, to protect the rights of the individual – rights that we prize and that are guaranteed by our national and state constitutions. That is why Alexander Hamilton said the “independence of the judges is ... requisite to guard the Constitution and the rights of individuals.” (The Federalist #78)

Our job is different than yours. You serve the majority. You make broad policy decisions that apply to everyone. You make campaign promises and are expected to uphold them. If something does not work, if it is worded incorrectly, or if the will of the majority changes, you can change your laws year by year.

Our job is more limited. We rule individual case by individual case. Whether it is a case for a business fighting for its economic life, a crippled plaintiff who no longer can support himself or his family, parents fighting for the custody of a loved child, or a person accused of a crime with his liberty or life at stake, we rule individual case by individual case, with each individual having only that one chance for justice. In every case, someone loses. Fairness, impartiality and a level playing field, not subject to outside influence or manipulation, not dependent on a preexisting promise, are the absolute necessity.

With this in mind, we need to talk about the Missouri Plan for selecting judges. The plan was adopted by the people of Missouri by initiative petition in 1940. It was in response to the Pendergast political machine's attempt to control the Supreme Court of Missouri. It was a plan established by the people to protect their courts from political manipulation and control.

For those of you who are new to the legislature, let me explain how the Missouri Plan works. For vacancies on the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals, there is a seven-member commission. The commission is made up of three lawyers elected by lawyers from the eastern, western and southern districts of the state. The lawyers' role is to safeguard the professional quality of the candidates. The lawyers serve staggered six-year terms. The commission also has three members who cannot be lawyers, appointed by the governor, again for staggered six-year terms. They evaluate the candidates from the point of view of regular citizens of Missouri. To the extent these commissioners are appointed by the governor, they reflect the political mood of the state. Finally the chief justice of the Supreme Court serves on the commission. In my experience, the chief justice functions neither as a lawyer nor as a lay person, but as a representative of the judiciary as a whole. Each nominating commission for trial judges, in Jackson, Clay, Platte, Greene and St. Louis counties and St. Louis city, has one lawyer and non-lawyer, and the presiding judge of the local court of appeals replaces the chief justice.

The commission evaluates the applicants. It screens out those who from a legal or any other point of view might not be the best choice to serve as a judge and selects the three candidates the commission believes would be best. The governor may appoint any of the three individuals submitted to him, for any reason. The governor's appointee begins to serve immediately but is subject to a retention vote of the people at the next general election after a year of service, and again, every twelve years thereafter. Missouri Plan judges are accountable directly to the people.

The brilliance of the Missouri Plan is that it balances the need for legal ability, everyday common sense and responsibility to the people, in a way that preserves the integrity and the fairness and the impartiality of the judge. It also checks the power of all concerned, the lawyers, the citizens, the chief justice, the governor, and most importantly, it allows a very real check and balance to the people by the retention vote.

But, in some ways, the quality of a judge is like the quality of justice. It is perceived in the eye of the beholder, colored by the beholder's interests and desires. What one person sees as a great appointment may be criticized by another; perhaps not relative to ability or integrity or fairness, but by a desire for a particular ideological viewpoint and the expectation of a particular type of ruling. The Missouri Plan was created to seek judges of ability, integrity and fairness; not to lock in any particular viewpoint.

There are two alternatives that have been suggested by critics of the Missouri Plan. I am certain that those who suggest these alternatives are sincere in their concerns, but I do not believe that they understand the dangers inherent in their suggested alternatives.

The worst alternative is direct elections of judges. The reason is simple: money. The amount of money involved in conducting statewide races will destroy the public's perception, and perhaps the actual integrity, of our judicial system.

As special interest politics have increased, the amount of money directed to judicial elections has skyrocketed. For the 10-year period from 1990 to 1999, $83.3 million was spent on judicial elections. For the 10-year period from 2000 to 2009, that amount more than doubled to $206.9 million. (The New Politics of Judicial Elections: 2000-2009, The Brennan Center for Justice, www.brennancenter.org)

It is even more shocking that most of this money comes from a small group of big spenders. A study of 29 elections in the nation's 10 most costly states from 2000 to 2009 showed that the top five contributors in each race invested an average of $473,000 each, while the remaining 116,000 contributors averaged just $850 each. (The New Politics of Judicial Elections: 2000-2009, The Brennan Center for Justice, www.brennancenter.org)

There can be no way that this much money from so few people can be good. In fact, a Harris poll released this past September revealed that 70% of Americans, both democrats and republicans, believed that campaign contributions have had a significant impact on courtroom decisions. (The Birmingham News, September 11, 2010)

Remember the Avery case from Illinois in which an Illinois Supreme Court justice cast the deciding vote in a $450 million lawsuit in favor of a company after receiving more than $1 million in campaign contributions from those connected to the company. Remember the Massey case from West Virginia in which a new West Virginia Supreme Court justice cast the deciding vote in a $50 million lawsuit after the CEO of that company spent approximately $3 million of independent expenditures to defeat the new judge's opponent.

Big money in judicial elections is a scandal.

I am not naive. There are political and ideological issues that divide our nation and that divide our state. It is our strength as a democracy to allow the full debate and resolution of those issues by and before the people, but that is a process for you to conduct here in the legislative chambers of government. It is not a process to be confused with the fair and just resolution of individual disputes, each case according to its evidence, each case according to the law, each case with fairness and impartiality. Most importantly, each case as the only opportunity for justice for the Missouri citizens involved.

Whether rich, poor, black, white, plaintiff, defendant, individual, corporation, prosecutor, accused, republican, democrat or independent, the people of Missouri deserve justice when they come to court. They deserve a level playing field and a fair chance. They deserve judges who make decisions on evidence and law, not judges who have been influenced by big money contributions from special interests.

Judges who have been bought and paid for have not been the Missouri way since 1940, and they should not be the Missouri way of the future.

Another suggestion is to adopt a plan modeled after the federal system. That, too, is problematic. Federal judges have life tenure; they are not subject to retention votes. The federal plan has no commission of lawyers or lay people to filter the candidates regarding legal ability, reputation or simple common sense. It would be a purely political system where only the governor and senators are included. I am sure you can imagine the bargaining that might take place, perhaps involving issues wholly unrelated to the nominee. You don't have to imagine the gridlock that takes place when the senate is controlled by one party and the governor is of the other party. In a 2002 speech, then Attorney General John Ashcroft declared that the federal system "has broken down" because the United States Senate would not act on President Bush's nominees for judges. That may well happen again with President Obama's nominees. What would happen here for nominees between May and January: delay or special session after special session. Modifications to the federal system might attempt to solve these problems, but they would only increase the uncertainty and risk about how a federal plan might work in Missouri, with untested modifications.

Other, more measured, changes also might be proposed to the Missouri Plan; changes that preserve the structure of the plan, but focus on the political balance of the commissioners, the timing of the commissioners' terms, or the number of nominees on the panel submitted to the governor. Such changes might be less dangerous, but they are still fraught with the risk of unintended consequences. The greater the change, the greater the number of changes, the greater the risk.

In the past two years, the Court has taken great strides to increase the transparency of the Missouri Plan to make it more open to the people. Last year, we amended the rules to release the names of the applicants. This year, we amended the rules to open the interview process to the public, to release the final vote for the panel of nominees and to encourage nominations directly from the public. These changes will allow the people of Missouri to see for themselves how the Missouri Plan works and to see the choices it makes when presenting a panel of nominees to the governor. These are significant and good changes. Both Kansas and Iowa have followed our lead and opened their interviews to the public.

A detailed study published in May 2008 titled, Is The 'Missouri Plan' Good for Missouri? The Economics of Judicial Selection, authored by professors Joshua Hall and Russell Sobel, noted:

“A growing literature in economics has found that judicial independence and quality matter for economic growth across countries and states.

Most significantly, they concluded:

“Based on our analysis Missouri’s current system is far superior to several of the alternatives such as partisan elections, nonpartisan elections, and gubernatorial appointment with the approval only of some type of executive council.” (Policy Study No. 15, Show-Me Institute, May 21, 2008)

Justice is sacred but fragile. It belongs to the people, not to either political party, not to any special interest. A system of justice is necessary to support our economy and to preserve our individual rights and freedoms. A system of justice can exist only so long as the people have trust and confidence that it is fair and impartial. Any proposed change to the Missouri Plan should be considered only with the greatest care and caution. I am afraid that it is more likely that any change will bring more harm than good.

Each of you has been chosen by your fellow citizens to come here and represent them in our government. It is a great honor that they have bestowed upon you. It is an honor that comes with great responsibility. Do not take for granted your importance. What you do will make a difference, not in theory, not in political sound bites, but in the real lives of real Missourians now and for years to come.

Having served here for nearly eighteen years, I understand your sacrifices. I understand some of your pressures. I understand your best intentions. I respect you all for your willingness to serve.

I know that each of you want to do your best. I know that each of you want to do what is right and good. It is not my place to advise you on most matters, but preserving a system of justice in Missouri that our people can have faith and confidence in, that cannot be bought, is something that’s right and good; reforming our criminal sentencing practices to save millions and millions of dollars, to break the cycle of addiction and crime, and to make Missouri a safer place is something right and good. It is what should be done. It is something you and your families and all of the people of Missouri can be proud of.

Thank you.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Dempsey.

Speaker Tilley resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing. (John 15:5)

O God, our Father, without Whom our world drifts into darkness and despair, let the light of Your spirit shine upon us as we for this moment worship You in spirit and in truth. Deliver us from unworthy ambitions which close our eyes to the rights of others and from a self-centeredness which grows into suspicion and ill will.

Make us mindful of the needs of people in our state and around our nation. Beneath all differences of race or creed help us to see human aspirations coming to fruition and seeking to be satisfied. Abiding in You, may the fruit of compassion and understanding and love be brought forth anew within us. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Dr. Steven G. Williams, First Christian Church, Poplar Bluff, MO.

As Jesus reminded those with Him (Matthew 26:41): "Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

Our most gracious and compassionate Heavenly Father, in this moment when we pause at the beginning of another session of the House, we turn our attention to You, seeking the guidance of Your wisdom, the strength of Your presence, and the undergirding of Your power.

Those of us who have accepted positions of power and authority, whether clergy, politician, teacher, police officer, administrator, or executive, can easily forget our position is first one of responsibility. As Jesus warned us, our minds and our spirits may seek to guide us in paths and decisions that are edifying for those we serve, but temptation is all about us.

We are tempted by those who would curry our favor for particular ends. We are tempted by our pride. Sometimes we are tempted by our greed. We often fail to keep our egos in check, forgetting the exuberant vitality and principled dedication of the days of our youthful innocence. In these moments of contemplative reflection, we pray that we might be open to Your presence, to Your guidance, to Your will, in such a way that we might remember our service to the state in which we live, and all the citizens thereof.

The needs of our state are great. The demands upon these public servants can at times be horrendous. The pressures sometimes indescribable. Gracious Father, help honest hearts and struggling minds remain focused upon that which is good, just, right and honorable, as the work is entered into this day.

We pray in Your Son's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Candace Thomas.

The Journal of the twenty-second day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly; nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in His law doth he meditate day and night. (Psalm 1:1,2)

Write Your Law upon our hearts, O God, and Your words upon our minds, as we lift our souls to You this refreshing morning. We believe in You, and we pray that Your spirit may so dwell in us that Your peace and Your power may be ours this day. Guide us in the decisions we make, give us support in our efforts to be true to You, and grant us courage to do what we firmly believe to be right. Just as we are now, strong and free, to be the best that we can be for truth and righteousness and You, Lord of our lives, we come and bring with us all our Missouri citizens and together we say, "Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Josie Kaderly, Luke and Jacob Detering, Ellie Kremer and Hope Keeley.

The Journal of the twenty-third day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2011

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, wish the Spirit, that they may rest from the labors; and their works do follow them. (Revelation 14:13)

Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father, from Whom we come, with Whom we live, and unto Whom our spirit returns, grant us Your blessing as we pray and enable us to put our trust in You that we may find comfort and courage for facing the events of this day for our state.

We remember before You those who have given their lives for our country. Comfort the hearts and the homes that walk in sorrow and in grief. Even as they journey through the valley of the shadow of death, may they feel Your presence near and in the assurance of Your love find strength sufficient for every need.

May we and all our people hear the summons to a greater and nobler living which comes to us as we remember our loyal and loving dead - a summons to give our best that a government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth.

In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Daniel Bauman, Patrick Hayes, Ryan Holmquist, Tim Johnson, Michael O'Malley, Oliver Oxler, Colin Safley, Daylyn Snelling, Travis Triplett, Antonio Partida, Eli Brown, Alex Partida, Silas Brown, Logan Schafer and Lily Schafer.

No officer, agent, or employee of the police department of such cities shall permit any such solicitation in any building or room occupied for the discharge of the official duties of the said department.

2. No officer or employee of said department shall promote, remove, or reduce any other official or employee, or promise or threaten to do so, for withholding or refusing to make any contribution for any political party or purpose or club, or for refusal to render any political service, and shall not directly or indirectly attempt to coerce, command, or advise any other officer or employee to make any such contribution or render any such service. TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Greg White, Sheriff of Cole County.

Heavenly Father, Lord God, in Jesus' name we come to You. For this day, and in each of our days, I thank You. According to Romans 8:28, we thank You for working all things together for good to those who love You and are called according to Your purposes.

Lord, I thank You for the men and women gathered here to seek Your will in the governance of the people of the State of Missouri. I ask You to make Your will plain to each of them. I ask You to help them make godly decisions to fulfill Your will. May You lead them and guide them throughout this day and their term of office. Make them into the people You have called them to be.

Please bless the members of this session. Lead them in all they do. In Jesus' Christ name I pray. Amen.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2011

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Create in us clean hearts, O Lord, and renew a right spirit within us. (Psalm 51:10)

O Lord, our God, before Whom all deceit fades, all pretense fails, all ill will falls, Who is the way, the truth and the life - bless us this day as we open the House with Your spirit and help us walk in Your way, to believe Your truth and to live Your life.

Forgive our foolish ways, the mistakes we make, the sins we commit, the harsh criticism we direct toward those who disagree with us, and our slowness to see the good in others and the wrong in ourselves.

Then, create in us clean hearts, O Lord, and renew a right spirit within us - that Your will may be done in us, in our beloved state of Missouri, and in all people we serve. The House says "Amen".

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

In returning and rest shall you be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength. (Isaiah 30:15)

O God, our Father, the light of the minds know You, the life of the spirits that love You, the strength of the souls that live with You - in quietness and confidence we lift our hearts to You in prayer this Missouri morning. Deliver us from unworthy thoughts, overanxious moods, tense spirits, and may we find rest and peace and joy with You.

Forgive our shortcomings, our failure to give You right-of-way in our lives, our insistence upon our way rather than Your way. May we never think of ourselves as sufficient for our responsibilities but may we find our sufficiency in You. Strengthen our hands and our hearts this day and use us for Your glory and for the good of our citizens.

We thank God for the return of Representative Wanda Brown in our midst today. May God continue to heal her. In God's Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Caresa Jordon, Katie Weldon, Abigail Freeman, Alison Davis, Brittany Webb, Courtney Wasmer and Andrea Mason.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 7

WHEREAS, women have served honorably and with courage in all of America's wars and conflicts since the American Revolution; and

WHEREAS, the United States military has evolved from a predominantly male force to a force of over 14% women who are currently serving on active duty, and nearly 17% serving in the Reserves and National Guard; and

WHEREAS, the population of women veterans is increasing exponentially from 1.1 million in 1980 to a projection of nearly 2 million by 2020, and will comprise more than 10% of the veteran population; and

WHEREAS, the projected population of male veterans is expected to continue to decline; and

WHEREAS, given that an unprecedented number of women are serving in the military and participating in Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom, the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is working to provide consistent, comprehensive, and quality health care and benefits to women veterans of all eras; and

WHEREAS, the number of women veterans has increased over the last decade because there is an increasing number and proportion of women who are entering and leaving the military, and women are living longer than men and have a younger age distribution compared to male veterans; and

WHEREAS, even though the VA has been at the forefront of health care and lifestyle solutions affecting an aging male population, there is now a growing need to improve health care services for women veterans, ensure clinicians are properly trained to provide primary care and gender specific care to women of all ages, and identify innovative courses of treatment and solutions to obstacles that are unique to women veterans; and

WHEREAS, with a rapidly increasing number of women serving in the military today and returning from deployments as seasoned veterans, and some with exposure to combat, VA facilities and veterans service organizations are working to ensure that the post-deployment mental and physical health needs unique to women veterans are also met; and

WHEREAS, even though the roles of women in the military have changed over time and will continue to change, they deserve to be acknowledge for their military service and treated with equal respect:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby encourages the Missouri Veterans Commission and its women veterans state coordinator to work in conjunction with the National Foundation for Women Legislators and the Center for Women Veterans at the United States Department of Veterans Affairs to reach out to all women veterans within the State of Missouri to encourage them to bring their specific needs and concerns to the attention of agency officials so that state legislators and agency officials may work together to identify unique issues impacting women veterans and consider policy solutions that will improve the quality of life for women veterans within this state; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly formally honors all of the women in this state who have heroically answered their call to duty and recognizes the important role women have played in shaping this great nation; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Missouri Veterans Commission.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

My presence shall go with you and I will give you rest. (Exodus 33:14)

Our Father in heaven and on earth, Who has given us life and the promise of life eternal, on every hand we see evidences of Your spirit and of Your goodness to us. For the beauty of the earth, for the glory of the skies, for the love which from our birth over and around us lies, Lord of all to You we raise this our prayer of grateful praise.

We thank You for Your presence in our hearts, making us strong, giving us confidence, and helping us to live in good will with our fellow citizens. We thank You for our nation and state - this land of the free and the home of the brave. May we now and always play our full part in keeping the flag of freedom forever flying over our Show- Me State.

We thank You for these men and women in the House for their devotion to Missouri and their dedication to You. May Your presence go with them all the day long in the Chamber, in their offices, and in their homes.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTIETH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Keith Spaugh, Chapel Lake Church, Lake St. Louis, Missouri.

Great God and Father,

We come before You this afternoon with grateful hearts, rejoicing in the bountiful blessings which You have showered upon us. We are truly a blessed people.

We thank You for this great land in which we live and the privilege of being a self-governing people - for the ability to have these representatives gather here to propose, debate, and vote to determine according to conscience the laws under which we shall live as a people.

Your Word says, "He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God." (Micah 6:8- NIV)

Therefore, O God, it is our prayer that these words will guide what this legislative body does in these days of session - that they will act in justice, that they will love mercy, and that they will live in humility and move in accordance to Your wisdom.

We ask Your blessing upon them; shine the light of Your grace upon this body as we now commend them to Your service, O LORD. In the name of Jesus we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as printed.

“148.064. 1. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, this section shall determine the ordering and limit reductions for certain taxes and tax credits which may be used as credits against various taxes paid or payable by banking institutions. Except as adjusted in subsections 2, 3 and 6 of this section, such credits shall be applied in the following order until used against:

- (1) The tax on banks determined under subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of section 148.030;
- (2) The tax on banks determined under subdivision (1) of subsection 2 of section 148.030;
- (3) The state income tax in section 143.071.

2. The tax credits permitted against taxes payable pursuant to subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of section 148.030 shall be utilized first and include taxes referenced in subdivisions (2) and (3) of subsection 1 of this section, which shall be determined without reduction for any tax credits identified in subsection 5 of this section which are used to reduce such taxes. Where a banking institution subject to this section joins in the filing of a consolidated state income tax return under chapter 143, the credit allowed under this section for state income taxes payable under chapter 143 shall be determined based upon the consolidated state income tax liability of the group and allocated to a banking institution, without reduction for any tax credits identified in subsection 5 of this section which are used to reduce such consolidated taxes as provided in chapter 143.

3. The taxes referenced in subdivisions (2) and (3) of subsection 1 of this section may be reduced by the tax credits in subsection 5 of this section without regard to any adjustments in subsection 2 of this section.

4. To the extent that certain tax credits which the taxpayer is entitled to claim are transferable, such transferability may include transfers among such taxpayers who are members of a single consolidated income tax return, and this subsection shall not impact other tax credit transferability.

5. For the purpose of this section, the tax credits referred to in subsections 2 and 3 shall include tax credits available for economic development, low-income housing and neighborhood assistance which the taxpayer is entitled to claim for the year, including by way of example and not of limitation, tax credits pursuant to the following sections: section 32.115, section 100.286, and sections 135.110, 135.225, 135.352 and 135.403.

6. For tax returns filed on or after January 1, 2001, including returns based on income in the year 2000, and after, a banking institution shall be entitled to an annual tax credit equal to one-sixtieth of one percent of its outstanding shares and surplus employed in this state if the outstanding shares and surplus exceed one million dollars, determined in the same manner as in section 147.010. This tax credit shall be taken as a dollar-for-dollar credit against the bank tax provided for in subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of section 148.030; if such bank tax was already reduced to zero by other credits, then against the corporate income tax provided for in chapter 143.

7. In the event the corporation franchise tax in chapter 147 is repealed by the general assembly, there shall also be a reduction in the taxation of banks as follows: in lieu of the loss of the corporation franchise tax credit reduction in subdivision (1) of subsection 2 of section 148.030, the bank shall receive a tax credit equal to one and one-half percent of net income as determined in this chapter. This subsection shall take effect at the same time the corporation franchise tax in chapter 147 is repealed.

8. An S corporation bank or bank holding company that otherwise qualifies to distribute tax credits to its shareholders shall pass through any tax credits referred to in subsection 5 of this section to its shareholders as otherwise provided for in subsection 9 of section 143.471 with no reductions or limitations resulting from the transfer through such S corporation, and on the same terms originally made available to the original taxpayer, subject to any original dollar or percentage limitations on such credits, and when such S corporation is the original taxpayer, treating such S corporation as having not elected Subchapter S status.

9. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, in the event the corporation franchise tax in chapter 147 is repealed by the general assembly, after such repeal all Missouri taxes of any nature and type imposed directly or used as a tax credit against the bank's taxes shall be passed through to the S corporation bank or bank holding company shareholder in the form otherwise permitted by law, except for the following:

- (1) Credits for taxes on real estate and tangible personal property owned by the bank and held for lease or rental to others;
- (2) Contributions paid pursuant to the unemployment compensation tax law of Missouri; or

(3) State and local sales and use taxes collected by the bank on its sales of tangible personal property and the services enumerated in chapter 144.

10. For tax returns filed on or after January 1, 2012, any financial institution that is a limited liability company or limited liability partnership may claim the tax credit for such company's or partnership's annual franchise tax liability as provided in subsection 6 of this section.”; and

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in your sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer. (Psalm 19:14)

Our Father, Who art in heaven, we come to You conscious of our shortcomings and our faults, yet confident that You are with us and that with You sins are forgiven, discouragement gives way to encouragement, fear changes to faith, and a new glory enters human life.

Give us the courage of our convictions - the confidence to say yes to what is right, the courage to say no to what is wrong, and the wisdom and insight to know the difference. May this spirit enter the hearts of all our people. So shall we be children of You, serving You faithfully all our days. Let the words of our mouths, and the meditations of our hearts, be acceptable in Your sight, O God, our strength and our joy.

We remember the late Corporal Frank Woodruff Buckles, born near Bethany, Missouri, who passed away this weekend at the age of 110. He was the last living link to all who served in our armed forces during the First World War. May he and all veterans rest in peace. And the House says, "Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Nathan McGhee and Lydia Harrison.

The Journal of the thirtieth day was approved as printed.

I appreciate your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24)

Our Heavenly Father, we bow before our altar of prayer with hearts overflowing with gratitude because You have been so wonderfully good to us. We are what we are, we have what we have, not because we deserve it, not because we have earned it, but because Your goodness has attended us.

Your strength has made us strong, Your love has undergirded us, and Your presence has blessed us all our days. Help us to be worthy of Your gifts and to use each day for Your glory, for the good of our state and for the welfare of our citizens. Thus, may every day be a glorious adventure in great living. And the House says, "Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Maddie Seiler and Haley Tyrrell.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as printed.

“302.341. 1. If a Missouri resident charged with a moving [traffic] violation, as defined in section 302.010, of this state or any county or municipality of this state fails to dispose of the charges of which the resident is accused through authorized prepayment of fine and court costs and fails to appear on the return date or at any subsequent date to which the case has been continued, or without good cause fails to pay any fine or court costs assessed against the resident for any such violation within the period of time specified or in such installments as approved by the court or as otherwise provided by law, any court having jurisdiction over the charges shall within ten days of the failure to comply inform the defendant by ordinary mail at the last address shown on the court records that the court will order the director of revenue to suspend the defendant's driving privileges if the charges are not disposed of and fully paid within thirty days from the date of mailing. Thereafter, if the defendant fails to timely act to dispose of the charges and fully pay any applicable fines and court costs, the court shall notify the director of revenue of such failure and of the pending charges against the defendant. Upon receipt of this notification, the director shall suspend the license of the driver, effective immediately, and provide notice of the suspension to the driver at the last address for the driver shown on the records of the department of revenue. Such suspension shall remain in effect until the court with the subject pending charge requests setting aside the noncompliance suspension pending final disposition, or satisfactory evidence of disposition of pending charges and payment of fine and court costs, if applicable, is furnished to the director by the individual. Upon proof of disposition of charges and payment of fine and court costs, if applicable, and payment of the reinstatement fee as set forth in section 302.304, the director shall return the license and remove the suspension from the individual's driving record. The filing of financial responsibility with the bureau of safety responsibility, department of revenue, shall not be required as a condition of reinstatement of a driver's license suspended solely under the provisions of this section.

2. If any city, town or village receives more than thirty-five percent of its annual general operating revenue from fines and court costs for [traffic] cited moving violations occurring on state highways, whether the violation is adjudicated finally as a moving or nonmoving violation, all revenues from such violations in excess of thirty-five percent of the annual general operating revenue of the city, town or village shall be sent to the director of the department of revenue and shall be distributed annually to the schools of the county in the same manner that proceeds of all penalties, forfeitures and fines collected for any breach of the penal laws of the state are distributed. [The director of the department of revenue shall set forth by rule a procedure whereby excess revenues as set forth above shall be sent to the department of revenue.]

3. The governing body of each fourth class city or village with over one hundred thousand dollars in traffic revenues in the previous year in this state shall cause to be prepared an annual report of the fines and court costs collected for cited moving violations whether finally adjudicated as a moving or nonmoving violation occurring on state highways, along with the entity's annual general operating revenue for the year, in such summary form as the state courts administrator's office shall prescribe by rule. In the event the fines and court costs exceed thirty-five percent of the entity's general revenue for the year, the entity shall include with the annual report payment of the excess revenues to the director of the department of revenue. Within thirty days of receipt of payment of the excess revenues, the director of the department of revenue shall disburse the excess to the proper schools, as provided in subsection 2 of this section. If any city, town, or village disputes a determination that it has received excess revenues required to be sent to the department of revenue, such city, town, or village may submit to an annual audit by the state auditor under the authority of article IV, section 13 of the Missouri Constitution. [Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly under chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2009, shall be invalid and void.]

4. The department of revenue may promulgate rules necessary to implement the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2011, shall be invalid and void.

5. In the event a city, town, or village fails to comply with subsections 2 and 3 of this section, such entity shall be subject to a civil penalty in an amount of ten percent of excess revenues required to be submitted that were not submitted, with such penalty to be distributed to the local schools where the moving violation occurred.”; and

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 7, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Mike Warman, StoneBridge Community Church, O'Fallon, MO.

It's a great honor for me to stand before you ladies and gentlemen this afternoon. I'd like to thank Representative Chuck Gatschenberger for inviting me today.

Two weeks ago as I was leading our people through a study in the book of Jonah, I noted God's rescuing of a great nation. It was through a simple message brought by a simple man. This message so impacted the king that he took the necessary steps to call on God and thus averted disaster for his people. The king cared for his people and his country, and I believe the same can be said of you gathered here.

I have a message from God for you today. It's simple and comes from His Word. You are loved, and you are valued for who you are, not for what you do.

Having said this though, on behalf of a church in Dardenne Prairie, Missouri, I'd like to say thank you for what you do. What happens in this hall matters greatly to those of us outside of it. Now if you'd allow me I'd like to pray for you.

Our Father, Your Word tells us to pray for kings and those in authority, that we might live quiet and peaceful lives in all godliness and holiness. We live in a time of tension and unrest, and so for the men and women gathered here I pray for You to lead them that it might go well for all of us.

I ask You by the power of Your Holy Spirit to help them work together. I pray that there may be unity in this place so that there might be harmony and peace outside of it.

I pray that You give them the wisdom needed to make good decisions. We sometimes fail to see how common sense can solve complex situations. I pray that You would give them the courage of conviction. Allow them to have honest and open dialogue over principles and not be caught up in the mindless debate over preferences.

King Solomon said a while back it's to the glory of kings to search out a matter, so Lord I pray You'd give these leaders wisdom to be thorough and fair in their deliberations. Father, I ask You to keep them from that which is evil and destructive. As they work to protect and strengthen our families, I ask that You might protect theirs at home.

Finally, Father, I would ask You to give them Your joy as they serve. Life is challenging enough without the enormous load these men and women carry. So I pray they would enjoy the work they're about to do. Father, may they encourage one another often. I ask that You would help them to always remember that, in spite of the politics, they are real people.

May You multiply the work of their hands and its positive impact on individuals and families of this great state of Missouri. Give us Your peace and help us to know the love of Jesus Christ.

In His Name I pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 8, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

You are my God, and I will praise You; You are my God, I will exalt You. (Psalm 118:28)

Our Heavenly Father, in Whom we live and move and have our being, so fill us with Your spirit that we may not yield to temptation on this Mardi Gras, but be strengthened with inward power for outward tasks. May we meet our obligations with honor, our duties with faith, and our responsibilities with a high regard for the good of all.

Stimulate us with those deep and abiding convictions which keep our state of Missouri strong, which makes our houses of worship vital, and fill our homes with love and joy and peace. May noble virtues live nobly in us, and may we give them hands and feet in our day and for this hour in which we live. And the House says, "Amen"!

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 34

WHEREAS, the Mark Twain National Forest, the only national forest in Missouri, is 1.5 million acres spread across 29 counties, with 1.4 million acres open to public hunting, 14 floatable streams, and 16 lakes ranging from 3 to 44 acres; and

WHEREAS, the Mark Twain National Forest is located in southern and central Missouri, and extends from the St. Francois Mountains in the southeast to dry rocky glades in the southwest, from the prairies lands along the Missouri River to the nation's most ancient mountains in the south; and

WHEREAS, the Mark Twain National Forest is popular with hunters, trappers, anglers, and persons who enjoy observing, studying, and photographing wildflowers and wildlife; and

WHEREAS, the Mark Twain National Forest has approximately 320 species of birds, 75 species of mammals, and 125 species of amphibians and reptiles; and

WHEREAS, named after Missouri native, Mark Twain, the National Forest gets a variety of visitors through the year, including spring and fall, when color changes the forest; and

WHEREAS, on January 8, 2009, the United States Forest Service Travel Management Rule, 36 CFR 212, Subpart B, became effective. This Rule requires each national forest or ranger district to designate those roads, trails, and areas open to motor vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the designations under the Rule include class of vehicle and, where appropriate, time of year for motor vehicle use; and

WHEREAS, once these designations are completed, the Rule will prohibit motor vehicle use off the designated system or inconsistent with the designations; and

WHEREAS, these designations will be made locally, with public input and in coordination with state, local, and tribal governments; and

WHEREAS, these designations will be shown on a motor vehicle map, with any use inconsistent with those designations prohibited; and

WHEREAS, the Travel Management Rule limits access to areas of the forest, especially for the disabled and elderly. Many disabled and elderly persons enjoy hunting, fishing, and observing nature and wildlife; and

WHEREAS, many areas of the forest are only accessible by hiking, so further restrictions on motor vehicle usage in the National Forest will significantly reduce access to the wide range of learning and recreational opportunities available in the Mark Twain National Forest:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Forest Service to amend or rescind the Travel Management Rule, 36 CFR 212, Subpart B, and allow an increase in motor vehicle access to areas of the Mark Twain National Forest; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Tom Tidwell, Chief of the United States Forest Service, and each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

Committee on Tax Reform, Chairman Funderburk reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Tax Reform, to which was referred HJR 8, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass with House Committee Substitute, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? (Psalm 27:1)

Eternal God and Father of all, facing responsibilities that tower above us like threatening waves beyond our power to meet adequately - we bow in Your presence, praying for the strengthening uplift of Your Holy Spirit. In quiet confidence we come with humble and contrite hearts, on this Ash Wednesday morning, acknowledging with the Psalmist - The Lord is the strength of my life, my light, and my salvation.

As we face the tasks of this day, help us to be conscious of Your presence, and eager to do Your will and to work for the good of our state.

In this time of tumult, through these days of economic uncertainty, give us a steadiness of purpose, a devotion to duty, and a determination to complete the work we are called to do. And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Adam Hart, Jason Hart, Abby Hart, Kyle Bernskoetter, Krista Bernskoetter and Luke Bernskoetter.

The Journal of the thirty-fifth day was approved as printed.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 17

WHEREAS, the United States Corps of Engineers' five-year study of the Upper Mississippi River Basin, which is everything north of Cairo, Illinois, failed to produce a plan for flood control acceptable to all stakeholders; and

WHEREAS, the Mississippi River Commission did recommend Plan H to the United States Congress; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers has not recommended this plan to the United States Congress, citing the expense of the construction of 500-year levees along these Rivers (estimated to be $6 billion) as it does not meet current cost-benefit guidelines for federal funding; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers additionally determined a need for a better data based upon new hydrology and flow studies and the need to study tributaries to the Mississippi River; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers indicated that ramifications of the additional 500-year levees and their potential to cause additional flooding would need to be determined, and affected populations and communities informed and advised of the potential impact; and

WHEREAS, the affected counties include the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St Charles; and

WHEREAS, Plan H designates only about half of the levees in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles be raised, while to the north a higher percentage of 500-year levees are recommended for both sides of the River; and

WHEREAS, the stakeholders in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles desire the protections provided by the 500-year levees; and

WHEREAS, the proposed Plan H, if implemented, denies the benefits of 500-year levees to those making a living along the Mississippi River, negatively impacting agriculture, transportation, businesses, industries, tourism, hunting, fishing, boating, infrastructures, and residences; and

WHEREAS, over 6,500 citizens have signed petitions opposing the proposed Plan H; and

WHEREAS, the Upper Mississippi River Basin should receive funding comparable to funding for the Southern Mississippi River Basin from Cairo, Illinois, to New Orleans, Louisiana:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby strongly urge the United States Congress to support a comprehensive plan for the Upper Mississippi River Basin that enhances system-wide flood control without creating adverse impacts on existing levees, levee districts, rural communities, and metropolitan areas. The plan should be based on analysis that quantify the impacts of enhanced flood control measures and acknowledges the importance of keeping agricultural land in production. The proposed Plan H is totally unacceptable to Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles Counties and we ask the Missouri Congressional Delegation to support modifications of the comprehensive plan, by the Corps of Engineers, to this plan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

O give thanks to the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endures forever. (Psalm 118:29)

O God, our Father, Who knows us better than we know ourselves, Whose mercy never lets us down and Whose love never lets us go - by Your spirit help us to take an honest look at ourselves and our frustrations, our fears and the futility that marks our daily lives - so much of which separates us from You and from one another.

Grant to us the assurance of Your forgiving spirit, the consciousness of Your redeeming love and the confidence of Your empowering presence that we may begin again this day to walk in Your way, to believe Your truth and to live Your life. And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as printed.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 15

WHEREAS, baseball players called him "Skip" because John Jordan "Buck" O'Neil was the captain of the ship that sent more Negro League veterans ashore to the white Majors than any man in baseball history; and

WHEREAS, Buck O'Neil played briefly in 1937 with the Memphis Red Sox and debuted as a first baseman for the Kansas City Monarchs in 1938. In 1942, O'Neil led the Monarchs to a Negro American League title, hitting .353 during the Negro World Series in the Monarchs four-game sweep of the Homestead Grays; and

WHEREAS, in 1944, O'Neil enlisted for a two-year stint with the United States Navy, briefly interrupted his playing career. He returned to the Monarchs in 1946, admitting that he regretted the fact that he was not a member of the Monarchs in 1945 when the great Jackie Robinson played in Kansas City before signing with the Brooklyn Dodgers; and

WHEREAS, in 1948, O'Neil succeeded Frank Duncan as manager of the Kansas City Monarchs, continuing to manage the team until 1955. He guided the Monarchs to league titles in 1948, 1950, 1951, and 1953; and

WHEREAS, in 1956, O'Neil was hired by the Chicago Cubs as a scout, helping the team sign future Hall of Famer Lou Brock, and superstars Oscar Gamble, Lee Smith, and Joe Carter;

WHEREAS, O'Neil's greatest achievement came in 1962 when he became the first African-American coach in the Major Leagues with the Cubs. After 33 years as a Cubbie, he returned home in 1988 to scout for the Kansas City Royals; and

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 14, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Paul Meinsen.

The songwriter reminds us that Great are the works of the LORD; They are studied by all who delight in them. Splendid and majestic is His work, and His righteousness endures forever. He has made His wonders to be remembered; the LORD is gracious and compassionate. (Psalm 111:2-4)

O Lord, we pray today that in Your wisdom and goodness that You will raise up for us...

...people like Queen Esther, who understood that her appointment was in accordance to Your will and thus brought great responsibility;

...people like Daniel, who as counselor of the king, spoke truth to him even though it was contrary to the king's desires;

...people like King David, who was a man after Your own heart;

...people like King Solomon, who desired wisdom to lead over Your people;

...people like King Manasseh, who, in spite of his sin, repented of his sins and found Your amazing grace;

...people like Samuel the prophet, who warned the people about having a dependence upon their leaders instead of upon You;

...people like King Josiah, who did what was right in Your eyes and led the nation in following after the things which please You;

...people like the three Hebrew boys, counselors of the king, who feared God more than they feared the king.

May we all learn to fear You and You alone. Draw each one unto Yourself.

We call upon You in this prayer. Please answer and be glorified. For You are good and Your love endures forever.

To the honor of Your name, O Lord, I pray in Your Son's name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-seventh day was approved as printed.

THIRTY-NINTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

*Teach me to do Your will, for You art my God: Your spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness.
(Psalm 143:10)*

On this Ides of March O Eternal God, Who is ever pouring out Your spirit upon Your people, we thank You for all those in every age who have opened their hearts to You, for men and women who have dreamed great dreams, seen wonderful visions, and who possessed courage to stand firm for what is right and good for all.

For those who trust in truth amid lies; who stand for justice amid injustice; who walk in good ways amid evil times; who quietly work for unity even when people are splintered; who possess a vision of life with You at the center even when Your presence is denied - we thank You, O God. By Your Spirit help us to be in this number of these great and good people. And the House says, "Amen!"

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

If any man walks in the day, he does not stumble because he sees the light of this world. (John 11:9)

Almighty God, our Creator, Whose mercy is from everlasting to everlasting and Whose truth endures forever, in all humility and reverence we bow in Your presence offering unto You once again the devotion of our minds and hearts.

Amid all the traffic of our ways, turmoils without, within, make in our hearts a quiet place and come and dwell therein. Sure of Your presence may we face the tasks of this day with a dauntless courage, a quiet faith and with a never failing good will.

In the struggle between light and darkness in our time may we walk in the light and live in the light that we and our state may continue to be the light of the nation.

We lift up Representative Sylvester Taylor in our prayers. May the Lord continue to heal him and give him and his family peace and comfort. And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sydney Rackers, Makayla Jordan and Jackson Lehr.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Schoeller in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

He hath showed you, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of you, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God? (Micah 6:8)

O God, Whose will it is that we do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with You, grant unto us as we wait upon You the confidence to do what we ought to do, the courage not to do what we ought not to do and the wisdom to see our way clearly.

Deliver us and our state from discord and disunity. May we find our concord and our unity in You. Give to each one of us the consciousness of Your presence, the continual strength of Your Spirit and the constant awareness of our duty to lead our people in the ways of freedom and justice and peace.

Help us to keep our faith in You, and may this faith keep us walking in the way of Your commandments all the days of our lives, and as we begin Spring Break on this St. Patrick's Day may all Irish eyes be smiling! And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 31

WHEREAS, the Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) was established by the United States Congress in 1965 to preserve, develop, and assure accessibility to quality outdoor recreation resources "to strengthen the health and vitality of the citizens of the United States"; and

WHEREAS, the LWCF is principally funded by revenue received from offshore energy extraction and is authorized to receive $900 million annually through the annual appropriations process; and

WHEREAS, the LWCF funds a federal land acquisition program and provides matching grants to states and localities for capital projects through the State Assistance program; and

WHEREAS, investments from the LWCF State Assistance program support the creation of public parks in rural and urban communities throughout America, protect green space and local water supplies, guarantee outdoor recreation opportunities, spur economic development, create jobs, and significantly aid national efforts to promote health, connect youth to nature and the outdoors, combat childhood obesity, and protect the environment; and

WHEREAS, in the original authorizing legislation, Congress recognized the important role of state and local parks in achieving its intended purpose by requiring the allocation of 60% of LWCF annual funding to the State Assistance program and 40% to the federal program; and

WHEREAS, the language protecting the State Assistance program was removed in the mid 1970s resulting in a disproportional amount (84%) of LWCF funding going to the federal side of the program over the past 25 years; and

WHEREAS, no language exists to protect the State Assistance funding allocations, and Congress appropriated a total of approximately $304 million to LWCF in FY 2009 but allocated only $19 million (6%) to the State Assistance program, and in FY 2010 appropriated a total of approximately $479 million to LWCF with a mere $490 million (8%) going to the State Assistance program; and

WHEREAS, Missouri received only $509,599 in FY 2009 and $699,429 in FY 2010 based on Missouri's portion (.017%) of the 16% that is currently allocated to the states; and

WHEREAS, the disproportional allocation of LWCF funding between the two programs has severely limited state and local governments in their capacity to develop parks and open spaces and protect green space and local water supplies in light of rapidly increasing populations; and

WHEREAS, LWCF provides one-time funding for state and local capital projects and state and local governments equally match the federal dollars, then assume all costs of management and maintenance; and

WHEREAS, LWCF State Assistance program has invested more than $84,125,968 in Missouri since 1965 and has funded 1,275 projects; and

WHEREAS, requiring 40% of LWCF funds to be annually allocated to the State Assistance program would not increase the national debt, but would ensure a more balanced allocation of resources between federal land acquisition and state and local community conservation efforts, as intended by the authorizing legislation. This would provide $6 million for Missouri's 2012 LWCF budget:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby call on the United States Congress to implement legislation specifying an annual allocation of at least 40% of Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) moneys to the State Assistance program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for President Barack Obama, the Majority and Minority Leaders of the United States Senate and House of Representatives, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Tourism and Natural Resources, to which was referred HCR 39, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass with House Committee Substitute, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-THIRD DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 28, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend John Reiker, St. Charles Borromeo Parish, St. Charles, Missouri.

Let us begin this session by listening to Jesus' parable: "There was a rich man who was dressed in purple and fine linen and who feasted sumptuously every day. And at his gate lay a poor man named Lazarus, covered with sores, who longed to satisfy his hunger with what fell from the rich man's table; even the dogs would come and lick his sores. The poor man died and was carried away by the angels to be with Abraham. The rich man also died and was buried. In Hades, where he was being tormented, he looked up and saw Abraham far away with Lazarus by his side. He called out, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am in agony in these flames.' But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that during your lifetime you received your good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things; but now he is comforted here, and you are in agony. Besides all this, between you and us a great chasm has been fixed, so that those who might want to pass from here to you cannot do so, and no one can cross from there to us.' He said, 'Then, father, I beg you to send him to my father's house - for I have five brothers - that he may warn them, so that they will not also come into this place of torment.' Abraham replied, 'They have Moses and the prophets; they should listen to them.' He said, 'No, father Abraham; but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent.' He said to him, 'If they do not listen to Moses and the prophets, neither will they be convinced even if someone rises from the dead.' "

Let us pause a minute to listen to our Lord in our hearts.

God of all Love, we praise You and thank You for so generously giving us so many gifts. Help us to seek and ask for the gift of Your love. Only with Your powerful grace can we overcome our selfishness and negligence. Help each of us not only focus on my needs and wants but on the needs of others around me. Help us to share our material blessings with those less fortunate.

We thank You for the gift of life this day and for Your bringing us together here. We thank You for those here You have called to be Your public servants in our great state of Missouri. Guide their decisions which affect so many. Help us to listen to You alone. For we all depend totally on You - the giver of life - the giver of eternal life to all who love You and love all Your children as our sisters and brothers. Let us all say AMEN!

Thomas Smith led the House in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Rick Howell, Lucas Yates, Thomas Smith, Blaine Brady, Hunter Hicks, Joshua Williams, Wyatt Karase, Zackary Wiseman and Zachary Kremer.

The Journal of the forty-first day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. (Galations 5:13)

Almighty God, Father of all people, Who is ever seeking entrance into our lives, forever knocking at the door of our hearts - we open our spirits to You in prayer this morning.

We pray humbly and sincerely for our state - this land where we can speak our minds without fear, where we can pray as we choose and where we can elect those who govern us. May it now and ever be the land of the free and the home of the brave.

During these trying economic days, help us to think clearly, to make decisions wisely and to courageously do what is right and good for all. Above all, may we put our trust in You and keep this faith as long as we live. In the Master's name we pray. And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Melissa Bergin-Stack, Alexis Chandler and Jonah Schnell.

The Journal of the forty-third day was approved as corrected.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend James T. King, Senior Pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Farmington, Missouri.

Gracious Heavenly Father, You are the God of grace and mercy, as we again assemble in this Chamber and face the duties and decisions of a new day, may the power of Your Spirit be upon us.

Grant that our Speaker and the Members of the House of Representatives who have been entrusted by the people of this great state, be guided into the ways of truth and righteousness.

May the legislation they propose contribute to the growth and goodness, the health and happiness, the material and spiritual welfare of our state and all mankind.

Show them how to bring joy and peace into all those whose lives are broken by bitter adversities and afflictions, by heavy burdens and beset by trials and tribulations.

Forgive us when we stray from Your ways and open our hearts to receive Your divine strength and guidance as we struggle to perform our daily tasks faithfully and well.

Hear us in the name of Jesus Christ, our hope and our life. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord. (Psalm 33:12)

O God, our Master, You are the creator and the sustainer of all mankind, without Whose blessing all our labor is in vain, we pray that our lives may be built not upon the shifting sands of superficial and shallow living but upon the rock of eternal truth and enduring love - so we come to offer unto You once again the devotion of our hearts, the dedication of our minds, and the discipline of our lives. May this moment of devotion at the end of this business week be the open door to an increasing fellowship with You and with one another.

We are mindful of the experiences and the events which bind us together as a state. By a common devotion to a common cause - the welfare of our beloved land - may we close ranks and by understanding and sympathy and good will bring together our different classes, heal the rift between peoples and make us a state united in spirit, eager to do Your will and to keep Your commandments. And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Elizabeth Graver, Charlotte Kenney, Samuel Pruitt, Maddie Gardner, Isabel Hart, AJ Lynn, Kylie Stage, Tony Carr, Dustin Reeves, Nicole Andrews, Andrew Pierce, Trent Bernskoetter, Cheyenne Johnson, Kelsey Peckman, Tessa Kohley, Mykela Passley, Taylor Smith, Bria Mullings, Becca Jones, Jessica Maggard, Gail Burgard, Chelsy Carey and Ruth Dorton.

The Journal of the forty-fifth day was approved as printed.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Financial Institutions, to which was referred HB 787, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass with House Committee Substitute, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 30

WHEREAS, the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), also known as ObamaCare, has been ruled unconstitutional in its entirety by the Florida Federal District Court, and the individual mandate contained in the PPACA requiring the purchase of insurance was ruled unconstitutional by Judge Henry Hudson in Federal District Court in Virginia; and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States, while addressing the issue of an individual mandate to purchase health insurance as a United States Senator in 2008, stated that "If a mandate was the solution, we can try that to solve homelessness by mandating everybody to buy a house."; and

WHEREAS, in the August 2010 primary election, the citizens of Missouri have expressed their clear opposition to the individual mandate by passing Missouri Health Care Freedom, Proposition C by a 71% margin; and

WHEREAS, each house of the Missouri General Assembly has requested that the Governor and the Attorney General of the State of Missouri join in the legal challenge to the PPACA, so far to no avail; and

WHEREAS, considerable time, effort, and money has been, are being, and will continue to be expended attempting to comply with the mandates of the PPACA, which may ultimately be wasted time, energy, and money if the PPACA is subsequently found by the United States Supreme Court to be unconstitutional; and

WHEREAS, the federal Court of Appeals process can be protracted and may well take up to two years for this issue to work its way through the appellate process and then ultimately to the United States Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, such a lengthy delay of a final determination by the United States Supreme Court regarding the constitutionality of the PPACA would be extremely harmful to the State of Missouri and will cause substantial waste of state resources at a time when such resources are scarce; and

WHEREAS, allowing the waste of substantial amounts of state resources and uncertainty to continue when clarity could be provided is not good stewardship on the part of any elected state official:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the Governor and Attorney General of the State of Missouri to send a letter to the President of the United States informing him of the urgency with which they view the need for a prompt resolution to the constitutional questions that have arisen regarding the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and further urge the President to take all actions within his powers to facilitate a hearing of this constitutional question by the United States Supreme Court at the earliest possible time; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Jay Nixon, Attorney General Chris Koster, and President Barack Obama.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Health Care Policy, to which was referred HB 579, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass with House Committee Substitute, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Committee on Health Insurance, Chairman Molendorp reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Health Insurance, to which was returned HCS HB 609, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass - Federal Mandate, with House Committee Substitute No. 2, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Committee on Judiciary, Chairman Cox reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Judiciary, to which was referred HB 708, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass, and pursuant to Rule 25(32)(f) be referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY, MONDAY, APRIL 4, 2011

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Leara in the Chair.

Prayer by Pastor Paul Meinsen.

Asaph the songwriter wrote about God, "Call on Me in a day of trouble; I will rescue you and you will honor Me."
(Psalms 50:15)

We call upon You today, O Lord, for I know, just by making the rounds, that many here are in a day of trouble. Some have recently lost loved ones in death; some have trouble with health in themselves or their families. Others are having trouble with unforeseen events that cause many sleepless nights, heartaches and worries. Others, O Lord, have troubles with the everyday concerns of serving the people of their district and this state - they are seeking wisdom and direction, needing to know what is best and right in their daily decisions.

So I lift these members of our Missouri leadership, Lord, to You in prayers. You are all-knowing, thus You know the troubles each person here is bearing. You also know the answer which will best serve them. Therefore, I pray that You will deliver each in the way that You know is best.

In turn, Lord, may we honor You with praises and much thanksgiving. May we also honor You by trusting in You, especially if we do not understand Your answer.

Draw each person here to Yourself. Answer our prayers and bring much honor to Your name.

To You and Your Son be all glory, honor, majesty and praise.

It is in Your Son's name, I pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Alexandra Kratky and Payton Moise.

The Journal of the forty-sixth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 96th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-NINTH DAY, TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 2011

Speaker Tilley in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

God is able to provide you in abundance for every good work. (II Corinthians 9:8)

O God, our Creator, Whom we seek to serve and to Whom we look for guidance, we bow before the altar of prayer offering unto You the gratitude and the loyalty of our hearts. We thank You for this new day fresh from Your hand with its possibilities for great and good living. By Your spirit may we always be honest and kind and forgiving; may we be generous in our criticism of others, patient with those who criticize us and considerate with those who differ from us. As we follow the Master who went about doing good, may we also stop merely going about and begin, like Him, to go about doing good to all.

Through this long day bless our beloved Speaker, members of the House and all who work with them. May the benediction of Your presence rest upon us all this day and every day. We recall the 150th anniversary of the Civil War - a conflict which changed our nation and state forever. Together lead us in the paths of unity and peace for Your Name's sake. And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Wyatt Bowen and Alexandra Kratky.

The Journal of the forty-eighth day was approved as printed.
